BITS and PIECES

ASSHOLES OF THE MONTH

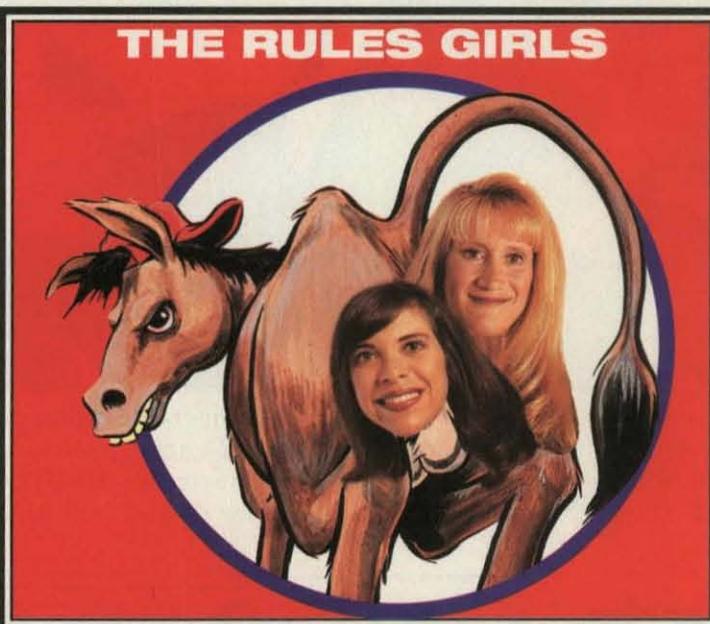

Misery loves company, and so do stupid cunts, and that's why fat-headed, miserable bitches are so desperate to get married. The empty holes, nothing of themselves, need a man's peg to punch their ticket, to validate and fill in their blank identity. A dim, dreary snizz hangs all her hope of attaining self-worth on the stooped shoulders of any weak schlub who wanders within reach of her matrimonial clutches. Plain, daft women have been obsessed with salvation through marriage since the dawn of humanity. Wherever cows have attained the power of speech, they herd together in pursuit of wedding prospects, consoling and advising one another.

Authors Ellen Fein and Sherrie Schneider are more than low incarnations of the female urge to meddle, manipulate and marry; Fein and Schneider are the Rules Girls. They are also HUSTLER's Assholes of the Month for January 1997.

The two horse-face yentas have combined every wile of their gender to cowrite a teensy paperback titled The Rules: Time-tested Secrets for Capturing the Heart of Mr. Right. Prominent on the book cover is a wedding ring. The agenda of this tinny tome is summed up by Schneider: "The Rules are a way of behaving with men which makes them want to marry you. It's about playing hard to get and dating without getting hurt."

A potential husband, insists Ellen Fein, must "think of you as a fairy princess that he can't get, but not never get."

Though Fein and Schneider look more like catcher's mitts than like fairy princesses, both women claim to have snagged husbands by using the Rules. We can pity these men, but forgive them only at the risk of becoming one of them.

A sampling of the Rules: Don't Talk to a Man First. Don't Meet Him Halfway or Go Dutch on a Date. Don't Call Him and Rarely Return His Calls. Always End Phone Calls First. Don't Accept a Saturday Night Date After Wednesday. Always End the Date First. Stop Dating Him if He Doesn't Buy You a Romantic Gift for Your Birthday or Valentine's Day. Don't See Him More Than Once or Twice a Week. No More Than Casual Kissing on the First Date. Don't Rush Into Sex.

The Rules can be paraphrased as string him along and reel him in. The tactics of Fein and Schneider may indeed capture the perfect man, provided the definition of perfect is "castrato loser."

The Rules sold 50,000 copies in September '96 alone; 235,000 units have been shipped to stores since its publication in early 1995. Broads nationwide are forming Rules Girls support groups and scheming their nuptials. The clawing harpies are paying $45 a minge to attend Rules seminars and spitting up $250 an hour for phone consultations with Fein and Schneider, who are busy on a sequel, Rules II. Movie rights to the Rules have been optioned for $250,000 by producer Wendy Finerman of Forrest Gump fame.

Though they appear to be less retarded than Tom Hanks's feeb Gump character, Fein and Schneider's only credentials are the fact that they are wholly unremarkable women who conned some dupe with a dick into marrying them.

"A woman can tell a man she loves him after he has told her, never before," instructs Schneider. "And wait a few weeks before you tell him."

Such advice seems to be at odds with Rule number 20: Be Honest but Mysterious.

Schneider scoffs off concerns of appearing conniving to a prospective mate: "When you do the Rules, a man that initially likes you becomes totally in love with you and doesn't consider the Rules dishonest. He thinks it's cute."

If a guy thinks the Rules are so cute, can he borrow them in his relations with women?

"No!" bleats Schneider. "The Rules are for women only, because men have the power to hurt a woman by not asking her out, not calling when he said he would, and not ultimately proposing marriage. The Rules protects a woman from unnecessary dating pain."

What protects a man from the Rules? His balls and his brain. Watch out for any mousy flit who fits Rule One: Be a Creature Unlike Any Other. Half snake, half skunk, she puts on airs, she feeds you her delusions, she's a Rules Girl.

Fein and Schneider have formed one such unique creation: a two-headed Asshole.

Patricia Moore: Prosecutors say that Patricia Moore, an ex-councilwoman for the City of Compton, in Los Angeles County, was caught on tape soliciting and receiving about 20 payoffs. Moore's bribes reportedly came from a waste-hauling company and from the prospective owner of a casino. Moore had vehemently opposed legal gambling in her campaign. Moore struck a deal with law enforcement, wore a wire and pleaded guilty for special consideration, but that consideration was not special enough. "There is no justice for African Americans in this country," laments Moore, who, according to testimony, demanded airfare to Africa to buy her vote. Don't go there, Pat. The dark continent has enough Assholes already.

Farts in the Wind

Sondra Locke: Sondra Locke filed suit against former boyfriend Clint Eastwood because Clint didn't tell her that he had put up the money for a $1.5 million studio deal for Locke. About forcing Eastwood to testify, Locke stated that she felt "clean." Like a freshly wiped Asshole.

ations on the same old tits, ass and crotch sniffing this year. The more HUSTLER changes, the more you will spray the same.

PARODY. NOT TO BE TAKEN SERIOUSLY.

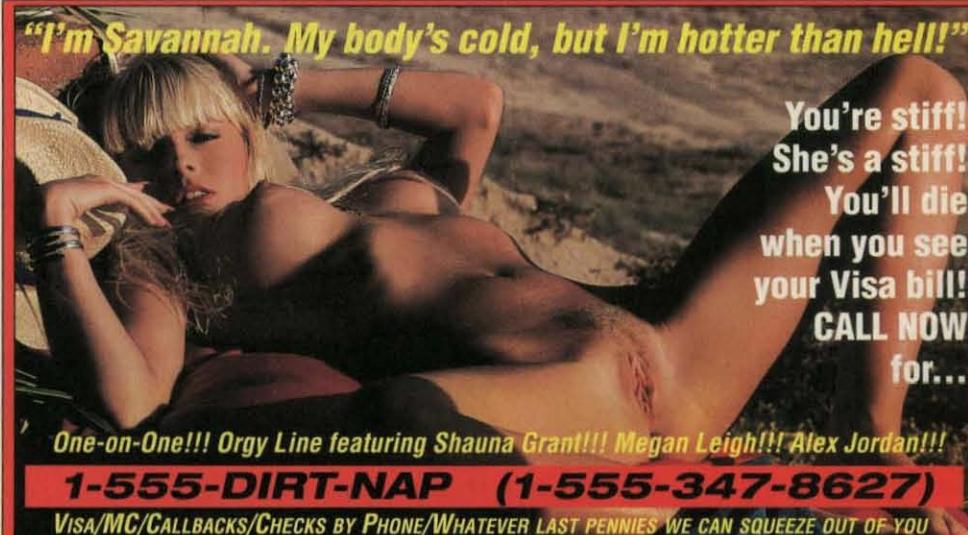

Is there life on Mars? Scientists who discovered a rock containing microscopic particles of Martian crap seem to think so. Of course, there's probably some space case out there who believes Penthouse published photos of an actual alien being too. Regardless, NASA is prepared to spend billions of taxpayer dollars in the search for little green men. Imagine the possibilities—there could be another life-form for major corporations to exploit and a brand-new planet to rape and plunder with the worst imaginable commercial excess! Sit back, Earthlings, and watch the same old scum-sucking leeches turn Mars into the In-the-Red Planet.

Squack to the Future

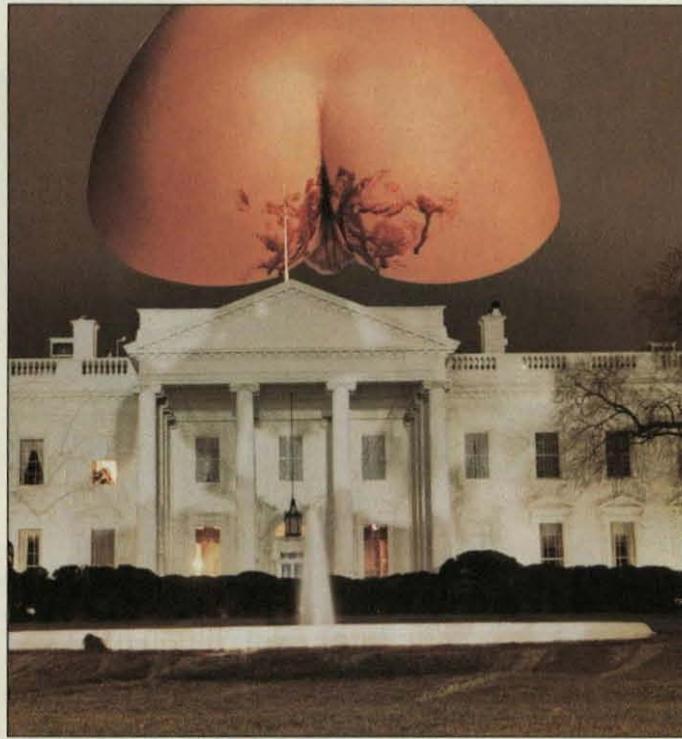

Some predictions for 1997 are easy: Your paycheck will be too low, gas prices will be too high, and a bonehead will occupy the White House. For more complex soothsaying, HUSTLER serves up a little fortune nookie. These shattering glimpses into the future ought to break a few crystal balls.

HUSTLER Predicts! ...Madonna's baby will be a darling little material girl. Unfortunately, the infant will refuse to swallow Mommy's milk because it tastes too much like leftover cum.

HUSTLER Predicts! ...The biggest box-office hit of 1997 will be In Depends Day, a tale of diarrhetic assholes from space that wipe out Earth—before Earth wipes back.

HUSTLER Predicts! ...Robert Downey Jr. will sign an exclusive recording contract with David Geffen's record company. The actor turned drug-casualty poster child will feel right at home signing for the record mogul who supported such acts as Nirvana, Hole, Guns 'n' Roses and Alice in Chains.

HUSTLER Predicts! ...Finally, in response to countless reader requests, HUSTLER's pictorials will feature more hard-core penetration!

Small Wonders

I want to get some information on what I need to do to get a nude layout in HUSTLER. I've tried to get in Beaver Hunt a few times. I've got a nice-looking body, but I know I don't have big boobs like some gals. I wasn't gifted like others. Can you give me some idea of what you're looking for? Do you accept nude pictures in picking out future layout girls, and would you take girls with killer bodies who aren't real big on top, like working girls, such as nurses, ER techs, etc.? My husband has been a HUSTLER Mag man for a long time. He loves all the pictures and jokes and reading the stories. It would be a real turn-on for him to see my pictures in HUSTLER, the best magazine in the world. I have only 32B boobs, but a pretty, trim bush with good looks. I want everyone to see what I got! Us gals with little-girl boobs deserve a chance. Please help a horny beaver! —J. S.

Hamlet, North Carolina

On the Hunt

I have enjoyed your magazine for quite a few years, even when the sheriff (Prosecutor Simon Leis) said I should or could not. My question to you is about the Beaver Hunt Video Contest and when you will release some of those videos to perverts like me who enjoy viewing butt-naked women. Do you plan to keep them all for yourself?

—D. B.
Norwood, Ohio

CONSUMER ALERT: When ordering merchandise through any mail-order supplier, minimize your risk of being disappointed by dealing only with mail-order merchants who accept credit-card payment and have a working phone number in their ads. Any offer that seems too good to be true is probably untrue.

You heard him, ladies. The Hunt is on. Foxes and pussy hounds across America are loading up camcorders and beating the bushes to bag the prize Beaver and take home five grand. See page 100 of this issue for details. Who knows? You might be sitting on a gold mine.

Poetic Justice

I am writing this letter from jail, and my next stop will be state prison. I let my johnson do my thinking behind some cum-drunk, to-the-curb, trailer-trash bitch. I was about to send her this poem I wrote, but when I read it to my buddies,

Dawn and Hank: Volcanic Eruption

the vote was, "Send it to HUSTLER":
*I wrote this poem specially for you,
 sitting in my cell with nothing to do.
 Thanks to you, I like it in here;
 so here's a poem for you, my dear.
 You're nothing but a snake and a snitch,
 I don't know how I loved such a bitch.
 You say I'm mean and put you down, then fuck and suck the whole town.
 I hope this poem makes you cry,
 'cause you'll be a slut till the day you die.
 You say that I'm a hood and a bum, while your pussy is dripping with Sancho's cum.
 Well, fuck you and your boyfriend the fool,
 'cause when I get out,
 I'll be fucking him too!*

—C. P.
Orange, California

We're glad to see you've found a creative outlet for your feelings, C. P. No doubt these touching verses will bring a tear to your ex's eye—and to her boyfriend's.

Dawn Patrol

Thank you for continuing to push the envelope in your pictorials. The portrayal of actual rather than simulated sex, with increasingly more graphic shots, makes HUSTLER the premier men's magazine. In your December '96 issue, the layout Dawn and Hank: Volcanic Eruption featured one of the most beautiful women to grace the pages of HUSTLER. Please, I beg you, give the readers more of Dawn in her own solo pictorial. —S. M. Lansing, Michigan

We'll see what we can do. Meanwhile, HUSTLER can promise to keep bringing you enough natural wonders to keep your testosterone volcano exploding.

Canada Dry

I'd like to ask a few questions and maybe bitch a little. I'm a Canadian, and you know what that means: I'm a fucking mushroom; they keep me in the dark and feed me shit. They take away most of my rights and treat me like a child. My husband and I have been buying HUSTLER for about six years, and we love the magazine, but we get awfully tired of Canadian editing. They will either totally black sections out or leave a blank. This applies to jokes, pictures, Feedback, stories, advertising and even the index. We have never subscribed because we don't know if it will be edited to the point of us not wanting to read it. HUSTLER, help us! Is there any way for us to get the magazine the way it was meant to be?

—A. V.
Calmar, Alberta, Canada

Since HUSTLER is mailed to you directly in a plain brown envelope, your copy of North America's Best should be as safe as any private mail and arrive without unsightly blackouts or sticky pages left by the censor.

Police State

I would like to thank the Staff and Management at HUSTLER for producing the best men's magazine in the world. It is only unfortunate that this team of professionals could not be allowed to run the United States government! I have lived outside the country for nearly 20 years and have become accustomed to a very easygoing lifestyle. In Europe you can walk into any newspaper shop and read any number of men's magazines without intimidation from some shop assistant. I was also amazed that most towns there have a number of very good sex shops. Therefore, I found it extremely difficult to adjust to the policing of choice and availability of magazines here in Florida. There are only a couple of places that carry men's magazines, and they are all behind a counter. This has resulted in several unwarranted comments from moronic clerks—for example, a suggestion that HUSTLER is a "toilet magazine." Another incident occurred when I tried to take advantage of your very good offer of two back issues wrapped in a plastic pack, and the sales assistant became extremely irritated. I would like to know how else I can purchase these double packs.

—C. G.
Jacksonville, Florida

When we do run the country, C. G., HUSTLER will be on sale everywhere, naked chicks will be behind every counter, and small-minded, big-mouthed clerks will clean the toilets—with their tongues. Until that day comes, you can get service with a smile by ordering back issues of HUSTLER by mail. Call 1-815-734-1142 or write P.O. Box 474, Mt. Morris, IL 61054. However, the magazines will come in an envelope; so you'll have to plastic-wrap them yourself.

Dept. of Public Transportation

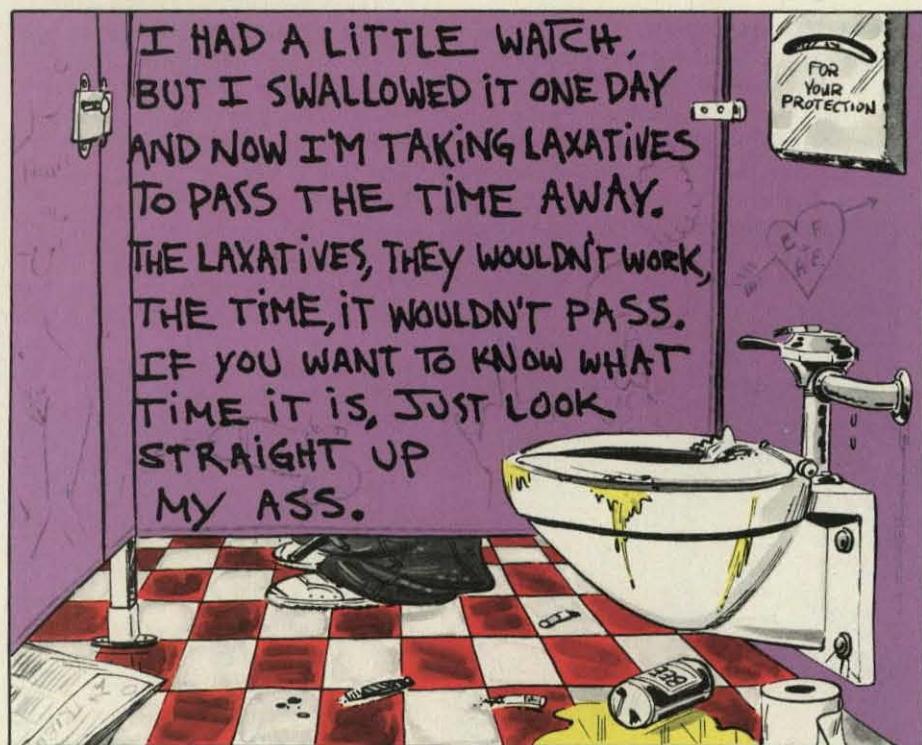

The reason why I am writing is to tell you that I really get off on seeing layouts not only of completely exposed women, but also of men and women together in the wide-open outdoors and on public transportation. I just thrill at seeing girls and guys getting naked on outdoor balconies, fire escapes, buses, subways, side streets, alleyways, rooftops and boats. The layout of Sasha and Sal (Sasha and Sal: Bus-jackers, March '94) really turned me on and got my juices flowing. At first I couldn't believe that they had the guts to take off all their clothes on a public bus with all those people around them, but then it got me excited and horny. I was wondering if you'll come out with a magazine filled with public flashing and girl/guy public pictorials as you do with your cartoons in HUSTLER HUMOR. I can only hope you will, unless you already do. Then I'll say thank you, thank you, thank you. You're really a fantastic and terrific magazine. God Bless HUSTLER.

Thank us, thank us, thank us, J. P. HUSTLER's VOYEUR, a special-issue one shot, is still available by mail and exhibits all the public indecency and lewd behavior that any peeping Tom, Dick or Harry could ask for. And God bless you too, one and all.

BOOK CHAT

"With us today is Abe Klarn, author of the book Men Are From Earth, Women Are From Some Other Goddamn Place!"

GINA AND VIOLET BEAT THE DEVIL

"Fuck them all," shouts Gina, cracking another beer while Violet holds the wheel.

"We already did that," Violet laughs, "remember?"

The mook they work for looked up from Violet's snatch in time to catch Gina skimming the register. So Violet put him in a leghold, and Gina pistol-whipped his ass. They cleaned the place out and took off.

"I liked the way you handled that," Gina confides. "It made me wet."

"Yeah?" Violet smiles, reaching between her partner's legs for a taste. "It made me hungry."

Aren't they scared at all? What if they get caught?

"Some of those cops are hung," Violet shrugs.

Gina looks up, talking with her mouth full: "We don't mind going down, as long as it's in a blaze of glory."

GREGORY DARK'S SNAKE PIT:
Hat freaks defile Dawn Burning.

GREGORY DARK'S SNAKE PIT:
Top erotomaniac Roxanne Hall.

GREGORY DARK'S SNAKE PIT: Laura Palmer and Mia Ciccero couch coochies for cramping.

Gregory Dark's Snake Pit

THREE-QUARTERS ERECT

Directed by Gregory Dark; starring Selena, Leah Martini, Laura Palmer, Mia Ciccero, Kim Kitaine, Dawn Burning, Roxanne Hall, Alex Sanders, Wilde Oscar, Hatman, T. T. Boy, Michael J. Cox, John Decker, Rick Masters, Vince Vouyer, Jeremy Steele and Nick East. Videocassette: Dark Works/Evil Angel.

Freaky, quirky weirdness has become Gregory Dark's mainstay. He is as well known for bizarro-world absurdism as he is for raunchy double penetrations. Snake Pit has plenty of both Dark trademarks. The dudes are all clad in black suits with white shirts, dark hats and skinny ties. Looking like a cross between Reservoir Dogs wannabes and seedy rabbis, the fellas hunker down in an alleyway, shaking dice and tossing what look like bleached chicken bones. The chicks, all slutty-looking, talk to the camera about their sexuality, but soon a dick goes into her mouth, and there's no more of that drivel. A lot of erotic mismatches here, with four dudes on one man-faced broad, three on Roxanne Hall, T. T. Boy overpowering a pair of pussies and spurting all over the gamy face of one. Oh, yeah, lots of times the guys put on these stupid masks that distract and detract, but the closing cluster bang of Hall assures viewer participation. Two dicks in her pussy! Dick in her ass! Cum shooting like piss into her face! More of that, and Snake Pit would be an unqualified hit.

PIERCING, TATTOOING AND BLEEDING

Subculture Sleaze Caught on Video

San Francisco lensman Charles Gatewood has spent his life documenting the bloody eccentricities of those who maim themselves for pleasure. Today, his company, Flash Productions, sells videos that capture a variety of young females in the act of mutilating their body parts for kicks.

"I like the idea of puncture, of having something to play with in my tongue," declares one subject in Painless Steel 3, Anna, a pretty, moon-faced munchkin in a beret who subsequently treats viewers to the sight of a ten-gauge needle being pushed through the tip of her tongue.

"How long after it's done is it okay to, um, like, play with them?" asks the next Painless Steel kook, a cute, masochistic twist in a torn fishnet bodysuit, blue nail polish and fuchsia eye shadow, as forceps are squeezed onto her cunt lips. "About six weeks," the piercing technician answers, plunging steel rings through her fleshy inner labes, outfitting her clam with the hardware that will enable her boyfriend to either tie the flaps open or lock them up with padlocks. "Ah!" the kinky cutie-pie shrieks in pain, "my boyfriend will really like this."

In Whipped & Shaved/Bloodbath, Gatewood films three vampire girls—two of whom show off canine teeth permanently capped with porcelain fangs—as they syringe blood from their arms, smear it on their faces and drink it. No explanation is given; none is wanted.

The parade of fetishes and freaks in Flash videos includes tit bondage, snatch shaving, genital tattooing, dudes who slice their cocks and chicks who weave needles into their breasts and studs into their nipples.

Some viewers will flinch. Others will get sick. A few, no doubt, will dig it.

Tit-tortured twist.

Chained meat.

Essence

HALF

Directed by Mr. Marcus; starring Brook Harlow, Scarlet, Mia Cicero, Yasmine Pendavis, Cherokee, L. T. Dee, Eric Stone, Julian St. Jox, Vince Vouyer and Mr. Marcus. Videocassette: Soho/Metro Home Video.

A couple of homeboys are down in the alley making a deal in the trash. Another brother sits behind a vast desk in a righteous business environment. Old-school studs drive around in bad cars. Weird techno soul music fills the soundtrack. A hot-walking black chick with eye-grabbing tits sucks trouser eel and grits and bears it as homie stiffs her on a tabletop. Don't worry about understanding the motivations or storyline—it's a black-porn thing. Vince Vouyer gets to skewer his pink prick into the darkest pit of a blond-headed daughter of the murky continent. She gets on top and hops like a melanin-tinted frog and accepts whitey's jizz on her puffy, Nubian lips. Two bros bone one 'ho. The camera goes all over for the good shots—high, low, front, back, both sides. But what's with those big METRO INC NOT FOR SALE words obscuring the screen throughout the entire flick? If the black man could trust the pasty video critic not to sell the review tape, Essence might have been a clear view and scored higher. —C.S.

ly lensed close-ups—dicks gliding into cringing poop rings, fleshy, feminine butt cheeks writhing on mental-hospital bed-sheets, and Canyon's especially floppy hooters wiggling like unsprung Slinkys—demonstrate the superiority of film over video again and again. Viewers accustomed to the cadaverous flesh tones of video will be warmed by the luscious heat thrown off by filmed fuck-bunny flesh. Jamie Lee's asshole steals the show when it stars in the opening back-door boff. The climactic orgy at film's end leaves the entire cast of hard-core entertainers still locked down in the nut ward, their jaws locked onto each other's genitals, and viewers at home with fingers locked around their schlongs.

—Mack Assarian

Anal Princess

HALF

Directed by Wesley Emerson; starring Jill Kelly, China Lee, Caressa Savage, Roxanne Hall, Sid Deuce, Sahara Sands, Sofia Ferrari, Tom Byron, Rocco Siffredi, Bobby Vitale, Marc Wallice, Steve Hatcher, Bob Stoneheart and Louie G. Videocassette: VCA.

The opening narration bills Anal Princess as a fuck-noir drama about "L.A.'s party girls prowling for sex and money." Stuck-up bitches, played by Sid Deuce, Roxanne Hall and Jill Kelly, sashay into a cheesy nightclub set that looks like the same cheesy nightclub set used in hundreds of other adult films. As in hundreds of other adult films, the story of stuck-up bitches getting what they deserve—i.e., dicks shoved up their asses—suffers from odd, annoying quirks of craftsmanship. Rocco Siffredi and Bobby Vitale take turns cramming cock up Jill Kelly's crapper—yet for some reason, Vitale pops inexplicably in and out of the scene, and condoms appear on dicks one minute, disappear the next, then are back again. Crummy continuity and production quality does not altogether spoil such scenes as doe-eyed Caressa Savage getting fingers and an assortment of dildos

Oral Addiction

THREE-QUARTERS
ERECT

It's amazing how excellent a merely mediocre XXX movie looks when shot on film. The premise of Oral Addiction is that leading trollop Christy Canyon is a dirty-talking nutcase who takes a curative rest, strait-jacketed in the psycho ward where she gets royally fucked by her doctors. Oral Addiction's many beautiful shoved buttward, super-slut Roxanne Hall getting her sweet tart face gunked up with Steve Hatcher's choad, and Sofia Ferrari's bushy asshole getting pried open by Tom Byron's prong. Along with the many butts reamed in Anal Princess, viewers get reamed by the poor standards of production.

—Walter Gahagan

Pocahotass

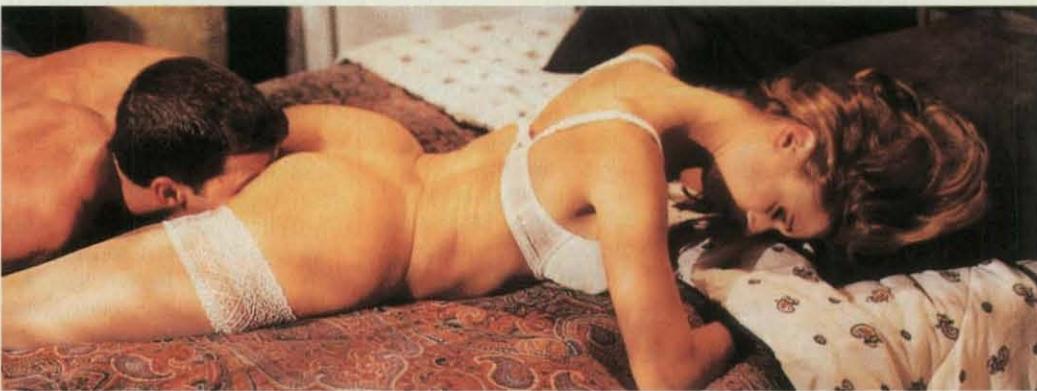

HALF

Directed by Michael Carpenter; starring Celine Deavoux, Christi Lake, Nena Cherry, Kelly Jean, Peter North, T. T. Boy and Paul Cox. Videocassette: Fat Dog Productions.

If by some set of circumstances the human race should blow the fuck out of itself in all-out nuclear war, and then some time in the future a species of aliens should invade the lifeless planet, and the only surviving remnant of human civilization they find is the triple-X movie Pocahotass, here are a few things they might conclude: slutty, big-haired, big-titted blondes like Nena Cherry deep-throated big boners, such as the one belonging to T. T. Boy, extremely well; female excrement canals, when properly greased, were ideal copulation holes, as demonstrated by Celine Deavoux in a scene with Peter North ending with jets of ball glop sprayed at her puffy cunt lips; pleasantly chunky Kelly Jean's fuzzy, liver-colored clam swallowed dildos almost as well as her asshole, and Christi Lake's cheerful, girl-next-door smile was much improved by having viscous strings of semen hosed across it following her DP. Aliens of the future might question why a XXX movie set in modern-day Southern California is entitled Pocahotass when it makes absolutely no reference to pilgrims or Indians, and they, like contemporary viewers, would probably be relieved that the sound dubbing is awful, sparing everyone from having to listen to the scripted dialogue coming from mouths better suited for scripted cocksucking. —W. G.

ESSENCE: Mia Ciccero gropes St. Jox's joint.

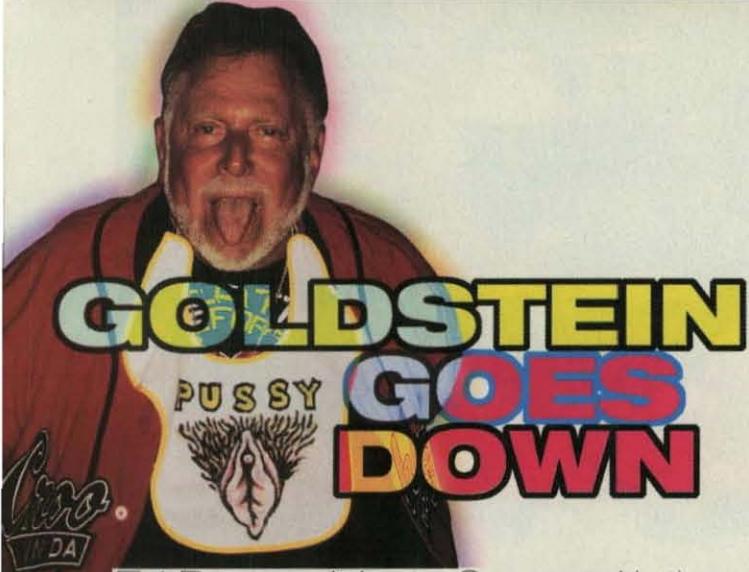

ORAL ADDICTION: Mark Davis lost in Christy Canyon's crack.

ANAL PRINCESS: Savage savors Sid Deuce's squishy delights.

POCAHOTASS: North readies high, hard colonics for Deavoux.

Ed Powers Meets Screwy Al, the King of Pussy Eaters

"Ed Powers cannot get laid," proclaims smut publisher Al Goldstein. Coming from a morbidly obese man who pays for blowjobs, the indictment is ironic at best. Goldstein's jovial, jokey mood is a stark contrast to the whiny, unpleasant persona he beats to death in the pages of Screw magazine. Perhaps the high spirits are connected to the blob of viscous goo that dances between his flapping lips.

"I just ate gourmet pussy," explains Goldstein, "the most delicious I've had in years. Lexy Ericksson is beautiful, she's smart, and she tastes good." Most viewers of Ed Powers's latest, untitled addition to the Dirty Debutantes canon—in which Al laps at Lexy's crotch while Ed fucks her face—will probably reserve judgment on Ericksson's intelligence. However, there's no denying the thin, pert-boobed blonde looks fantastic, even with some 300-odd pounds of Hebrew ham snuffling and snorting between her downy thighs.

Speaking of Judaism, Powers considered titling this special edition of his video series Kinky Kikes. "They used to feed Christians to the lions. Now they feed them to the Jews," Powers quips from his spacious Valley home. Moments before, Goldstein and Ericksson writhed in cunnilingus frenzy upon the very bed where Powers sits and examines the raw footage. "This tape is a one-shot special event, solely to display Al's pussy-eating prowess. He didn't get off; he didn't even pull his dick out."

Lexy, who describes the Goldstein technique as "soft, gentle and thoughtful...like a woman," can also be seen in Dirty Debutantes Volume 54. As for hard-to-miss Al, he's on his way to Spago's.

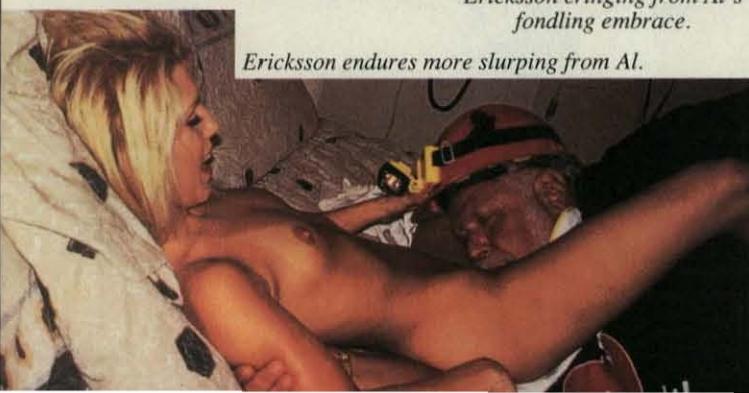

"I love eating pussy, but food is number one," states Goldstein flatly. "Food will always be number one."

Ericksson cringing from Al's fondling embrace.

Al hams it up in Ericksson's haunches.

Ericksson endures more slurping from Al.

Arizona Gold

Directed by Jim Enright; starring Jill Kelly, Alex Dane, Madelyn Knight, Ariel Daye, Tom Byron, Peter North, Brad Armstrong and Tony Tedeschi. Videocassette: Klimaxx Productions.

Viewers should be cautioned: They may wear out their remote-control batteries by unceasingly fast-forwarding through the many long, ungratifying dramatic scenes in Arizona Gold, a jerk-off western with okay sex scenes that are put to death by all the abominable yakking dreamt up by the screenwriter. Those who endure the dialogue are rewarded with moments of respite: Peter North's meat-gun attack on tent whore Ariel Daye's shaggy, pink bull's-eye, ending in a wad fusillade across her belly; Alex Dane and Madelyn Knight's lesbian lick-off set in a tepee; and Tom Byron's crap shot at Knight's pooper. After a lot more talking, Jill Kelly earns her position on the box cover by pairing up with a couple of condom-clad cowpokes and giving Byron a hummer and a roll in her hole. For the fist-fucker looking for pay dirt, Arizona Gold is fool's gold. —M. A.

sex scene is between Carrera and Mike Horner. It's a no go. Their relationship is blocked. They don't have sex! Is that any way to film a sex scene? Lots of people don't have sex in Blue Dreams. Incredibly hot babes sit in lounge chairs poolside, far in the background. The foreground is hogged up by two pornographic performers acting as though they are discussing something. The fuckers are good-looking, athletic and able; one chick goes so far as to stick her tongue out about 14 inches to lick wad. Why not just let them ball?

—C. S.

Ben Dover's Lewd in Liverpool

Directed by Steve Perry; starring Amanda, Sylvie and Steve Perry. Videocassette: VCA.

Ben Dover is a younger, British version of John Stagliano. The callow Englishman totes a video camera around the mews and lanes of Merry Olde, chatting up the birds, following them up stairs, sticking his lens into their bums, occasionally catching them having a bit of a boff, even going so far as to extend his own John Thomas into the pouty lips of the Queen's own comely subjects. None of the girls of Lewd in Liverpool have those leathery California-suntan complexions. The skin here is milky white as the cliffs of Dover, and the breasts are all natural and fluffy and warm-looking and jolly soft like perfect tit dumplings. "Delightful," says Ben often, and with these teasy, prissy, prim and open-pussed slags to entice and excite the lad, no wonder he must give voice to his delight. The sex is quite proper, which may not be the best way to indulge in improprieties. Ben's molestations are a study in politeness and decorum, but what kind of wanker wants to study all that?

—C. S.

Blue Dreams

Directed by Bud Lee; starring Asia Carrera, Nici Sterling, Jill Kelly, Rebecca Lord, Jeanna Fine, E. Z. Ryder, Jonathan Morgan, Randy West, Mike Horner, Alex Storm and Wilde Oscar. Videocassette: Sin City.

If a box cover promises entertainment that is "beyond sin" and "beyond perversion," the viewer has the unfortunate tendency to expect something beyond a mundane, slow-paced erotic diversion. Falsely raised expectations are only part of the reason why Blue Dreams is a disappointment. Asia Carrera pretends to be a mental therapist; her client is Jonathan Morgan; they get through their first session talking about anxiety. They do not fuck. The first

ARIZONA GOLD: Meat pistol ready to pop in Jill Kelly's kisser.

Gold Diggers

Julia Ann Superstar

Directed by Cheeks; starring Jill Kelly, Missy, Lana Sands, Yvonne, Holly Body, Sid Deuce, Davia Ardell, Ariel Daye, Mark Davis, Vince Voyeur, Alex Sanders and John Decker. Videocassette: VCA.

Gold Diggers is a message film, and its message is that if a guy wants to fuck a chick, come on her face or shove his wand into her asshole, then he's required to pay. He will pay in jewelry or dinner or services he can render, and the chick gets off for free and gets laid to boot. What does the paying consumer buy in the way of sex from Gold Diggers? Long, blond Jill Kelly bent over a bathtub, with straining schlong stirring her cunt stew. Jill weathers a gale of goop that plasters her tongue, lips and eyes. Alex Sanders squeezes his joystick into the greedy sphincters of a mixed-race muff. A snooty blonde holds her ass cheeks open as Peter North semen-squirts her nates. A pair of passable poons play stink face on a putting green. A skinny, peroxide blonde with bags under her eyes sucks cock while kneeling on a kitchen floor. What a mess of cum on her lips. Two more broads take wad to the face, one after the spout comes out of her girlfriend's asshole. Gold Diggers is even money.

—C. S.

Directed by Toni English; starring Julia Ann, Channone, Jill Kelly, Christi Lake, Kim Kitaine, Mark Davis, Steven St. Croix, Marc Wallice and Tom Byron. Videocassette: Vivid.

Hollywood producers, everybody knows, are sleazy and rich as sin. The Hollywood-producer lifestyle is full of slutty, sucking-desperate chicks and lavish material excess, expensive cars, costly garments, million-dollar homes and priceless art. When porn movies attempt to depict the Hollywood-producer reality, the XXX flicks generally fall short in one area. Smut rarely looks like money, and Julia Ann Superstar is no exception, although this portrayal of the Hollywood-producer excess does have a full bevy of nad-chomping, blond sex holes, albeit with nary a wad facial. Julia Ann receives star billing and waves her blinking asshole in the camera's eye as she tongue-twirls the labes of Jill Kelly. Julia Ann and Jill Kelly are both blondes, both sweet in the face and both avidly sexual, but only one has big fake tits. Is that why she gets top billing? Baby-eyed Channone scrunches up her tot face as Marc Wallice's scimitar slices into her sphincters in a fuck that stands out enough to earn Julia Ann Superstar its Half Erect rating. Hopefully she got paid extra.

—C. S.

BLUE DREAMS: Dirty dreamer Nici Sterling.

GOLD DIGGERS: Ariel Daye and Missy in a ménage à twat.

SUPERSTAR: Byron bones Kitaine; Wallice schtupps Lake.

THREE-QUARTERS ERECT

Directed by Jim Enright; starring Stacy Valentine, Alexandra Silk, Sindee Coxx, Lexi Eriksson, Alex Sanders, Jonathan Morgan and Mickey G. Videocassette: Wicked Pictures.

A jewel-thief caper featuring three honey-complexioned, peroxide blondes and one naturally filthy blonde (Alexandra Silk). Allure overcomes the limitations of its dopey crime-story plot by largely ignoring it and, instead, concentrating on such crimes against nature as Alex Sanders's anal-sodomy scene with Stacy Valentine. Sindee Coxx bares her plentiful love jugs for Jonathan Morgan, sucks his nuts, then squats for a desktop doggie-style degradation; Coxx keeps her baby eyes gazing up wide and innocent as she chews through a blond-haired pal's black box; Alexandra Silk gets the honor of simultaneously servicing two putzies' puds—stretching her crack wide for a cock up her vage and another up her rectum; and some sweating dude gets his rocks off on Lexi Eriksson's velvety snatch and thanks her for the ride by gunking up her cute kisser with nad slime. Repeated viewings of Allure will result in drained puds and crusty sheets.

EIGHTEEN AND ANXIOUS: Devon Shore limbering up for a DP.

Eighteen and Anxious

HALF ERECT

Directed by Rod Fontana; starring Nadia, Chloe, Emily Hill, Lil' Cinderella, Devon Shore, Ian Daniels, Rick Masters, Steve Hatcher, Sean Rider and Rod Fontana. Videocassette: Sin City.

Lil' Cinderella plays an ordinary neighborhood teen hired by Rod Fontana to watch the house while he and wife Emily Hill go on a vacation. The trashy teen invites over two of her tattooed gal pals, Nadia and Devon Shore, and the delinquent dykelettes are soon licking labes in the grown-ups' bedroom. Cinderella's cute, hairless quim oddly resembles a butterfly with pink flesh wings, and the camera captures the fluttering of her chums' tongues across it splendidly. Those who worry about the lax discipline of today's youth will marvel at the king-size effort doll-size Chloe puts into humming and humping two studs at once in a poolside porking, and Devon Shore puts her buns to the bone when she gets cunt and butt fucked in a sweaty DP. Steve Hatcher makes odd Popeye faces as Cinderella and Nadia together suck a load from his nuts, and Nadia shows off her firm, uplifting, natural nay-nays again as she blows and bones a couple of cock jocks. Eighteen and Anxious presents a positive view of slutty, degenerate youth in America that will encourage mature dicks to stay hard.

HAPPY NEW REAR

I'm looking forward to a lot of exciting events in 1997: turning 21, moving out on my own, getting fucked in the ass. About the only action I've seen this year has been from my Vibralux-2000 dildo. Living with my parents makes it difficult to bring home guys for the kind of thrashing, banging-on-the-wall sex in which I specialize. Sure, muffled lesbian lickfests break out at the slumber parties I hold for my girlfriends each Friday, but I need a dose of good, hard cock at least once a month. That's my New Year's resolution!

On New Year's Eve, my pain-in-the-ass grandma (who lives in the basement) said, "Whatever you're doing at midnight is the way you'll spend the rest of the year." Call me superstitious, but I turned down Mom and Dad's offer to watch the Dick Clark special over a bowl of popcorn. When the big red ball dropped, I intended to find myself facedown in a pillow, slathered in semen and choking out, "Happy New Year!" through my clenched teeth. The first step toward making my wet dream come true was a call to Pammy Woodcock, my sluttiest girlfriend.

"You should see the outfit I picked for tonight," panted Pammy through the phone. "I mean, you couldn't even call this thing a miniskirt. It's more like a hot-pink infinitesimal-skirt, riding up my plump, bare ass." Just the horny tone of Pammy's voice was enough to soak my thong panties. When I visualized her two boozing butt cheeks squeezed into six or seven inches of stretch fabric, I actually slipped a finger between my wet labes. Pammy must have picked up on my tortured breathing because she cranked up the dirty talk to a pussy-pulsating pitch.

"When you and I go out tonight," she continued, "we're gonna find some hunk with a stiff cock and sneak him into your room. Then I'm gonna lick every inch of your soft, quivering skin while he watches and pounds his pud. My tongue will nestle between those golden pubes of yours and slide slowly toward your steamy, briny... oh, shit...." The way Pammy stopped mid-sentence could only mean one thing: She was diddling her clam too. We both took a minute to get off, savoring the sound of each other's climactic sighs and growls. Then Pammy chirped, "I'll be over to pick you up at ten."

The two of us cruised for an hour and a half, desperate to find a doorman near-sighted enough to accept our homemade IDs. At Scrimm's Music Emporium we happened upon a goofball in horn-rims and high-waters who looked like an easy mark. Pammy switched into what she calls "mega-tramp mode," pulling up her halter top just high enough to make it look like she doesn't know her juicy tits are hanging out. She wiggled toward her prey, who was busy checking IDs between glances at his Viper Man comic book.

"My name's Pamela," she said with an affected air of maturity. "This is my dear companion, Alissa. Of course, you'll read all about it when you see our driver's licenses." We presented our forgeries proudly, but the trembling dweeb just stared dumbstruck at my chest.

I sniffed disdainfully, hoping my stiffening nerps wouldn't give away my feigned superiority. "I say, good man! As one adult to another, I insist that you divert your eyes from my bosom and focus on admitting Pamela and myself into your establishment." To my shock, the myopic little mook responded by unzipping his pants and producing a ten-inch schlong.

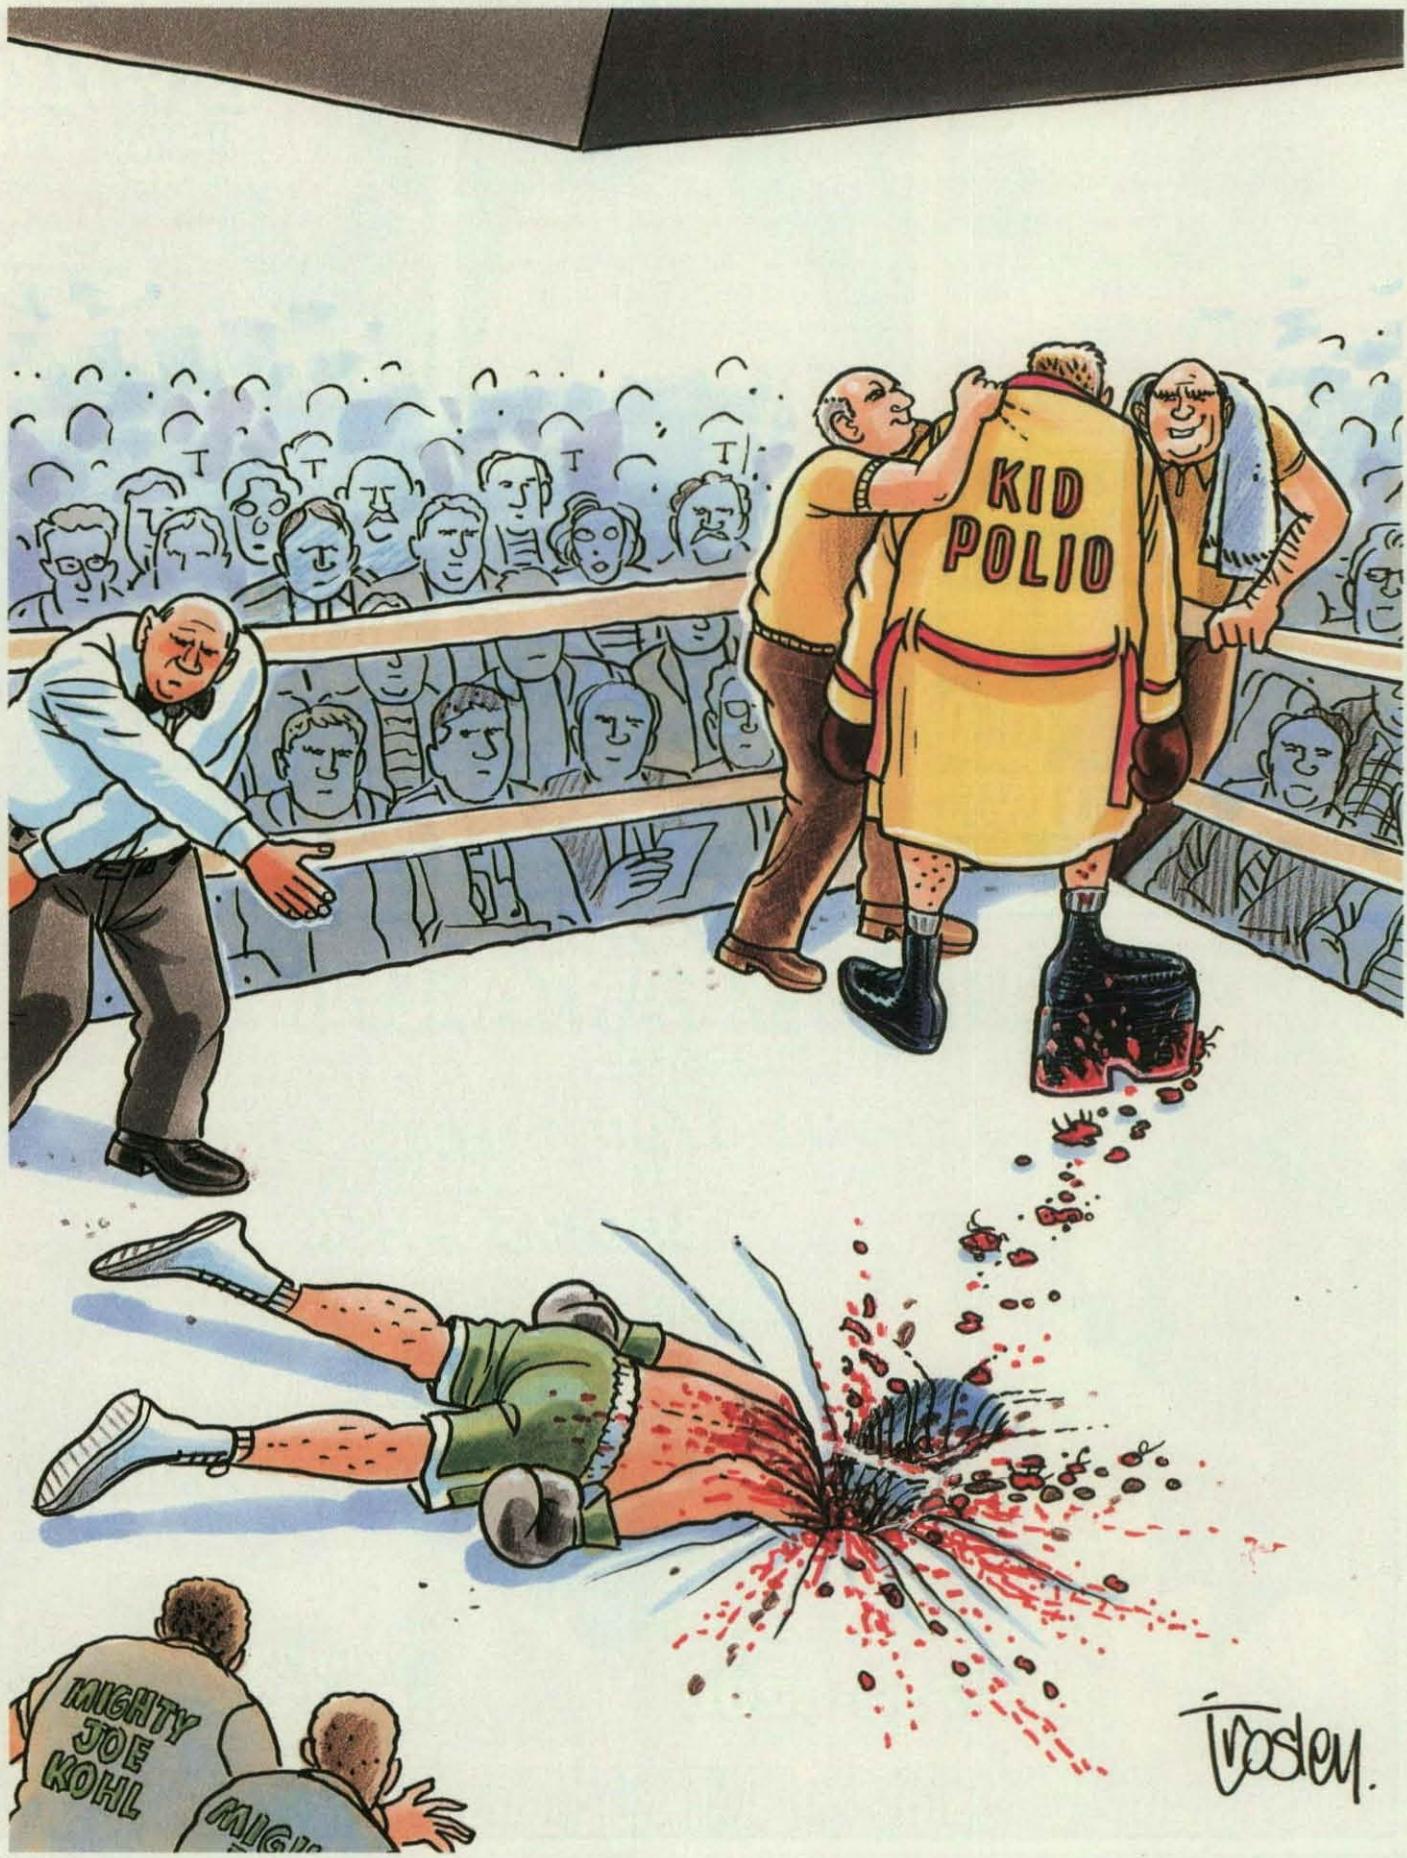

"Cut the crap, little girl," he sneered, stroking his manhood to an aroused state. "The only way minors get into Scrimm's is by sucking my fat one in that back alley." The bespectacled horndog wagged his wang toward the sinful side street in question. As if that gesture weren't gross enough, Pammy was totally drooling over the prospect of blowing this geek.

She pleaded, "Come on, Alissa. You said you wanted a dose of the thick, veiny stuff." I tried to explain the importance of making it home by midnight with a stud, not a dud. Pammy just grabbed lover boy by the balls and dragged him into the darkness, promising we'd be done in time for a chorus of "Auld Lang Syne." I sighed, caught up with the stripping duo and jammed my tongue into the creep's ear.

Pammy gave some slurpy skull to the dude as I worked my mouth to his chest and bit his hairy nipples. He cupped my crotch in his greedy hand. Almost against my will, my hips began to swivel against his leg; oozing pussy juice mingled with the sweat of his palm. I got down on my knees next to Pammy and tasted my own dribblings with light kisses on his fingers. Then I moved on to the main course: a deep suck of cock, nibbling and tongue-stabbing the piss hole while Pammy stuffed his nads into her mouth. The lucky stiff grabbed us both by the hair and roughly yanked my head as he fucked my face.

"Keep it up," he grunted, "and I might even get you bimbos a backstage pass." Those words must have given Pammy some kinky ideas, because her oral favors moved under the doorman's testes, toward the anal cavity he sits on all night. I think the idea of analingus is totally disgusting, but that's why I call Pammy my sluttiest girlfriend. She reached under and spread his bottom as if the rectum within was a rare delicacy. Now the cock in my mouth grew even more imposing, and it snaked past my tonsils with an alarming throb.

He yelped, "I can't take this" and withdrew from my throat. "You down there, keep sucking my ass. And you...." The rimjob Romeo pulled me up, lifted my leg and entered me standing. "You are going to get the screwing of a lifetime." He plunged in and out of my hot box. His strokes were fast and furious; it felt like my womb was about to be turned inside out. Screeching in ecstasy, I sank my teeth into his shoulder. Although banging some nerd next to overflowing garbage while Pammy ate his bottom was not the way I intended to wind up the evening, the electricity in my cunt just couldn't say no.

"Uh-huh," I yowled. "Play with my clit. Pinch it, stroke it.... Just make me come!" Thank God Pammy heard my frenzied pleas. She wiped her mouth off and stood behind me, pressing her massive, milky hooters into my back. I turned my head to join her in a deep soul kiss. As the two of us swapped spit, Pammy's hands slid around my waist, and her talented fingertips came to rest on my love button. She played my poon like a fine instrument, rubbing and pressing at just the right moments. Within seconds, I came, biting Pammy's tongue to keep from screaming. My poon muscles were still contracting when that slab of beef rammed its deepest.

"Get down and swallow my sperm," instructed my red-faced fuck buddy. Pammy and I fell to our knees in complete obedience, even as the crowd inside Scrimm's launched into their New Year's countdown. Just for fun, Pammy joined in; oblivious, our schtup for the evening simply whipped his joint to an orgasmic frenzy.

Pammy counted, "Five...four...." I opened my mouth in hungry anticipation. "Three...two...." My fingers snuck up Pammy's flue, provoking her to gasp, "One—happy...ohh, yeah!" The doorman's sloopie flew up my nose, splattered my cheek, squirted Pammy's chin and dumped a load all over her boobs. I sucked up the pasty stew while jerking Pammy off to a writhing, screaming climax.

Later, Grandma asked me what I was doing at midnight, and I told her the whole story. What the fuck, I figured; maybe the truth will give her a heart attack. Instead, she seemed impressed and said, "The next time you go out for a piece of ass, why not invite your mother and I? The family that plays together...." I'm sure I'll move out next year.

FREAK YOU

I don't know if any of you HUSTLER readers have checked out the gash available at carnies' sideshows, but some of those freaks are really fucking hot. When my girlfriend, Elaine, suggested an afternoon at the Marmara Carnival, I did everything short of breaking my legs to get out of going. Everybody knows the rides are put together by drunks, the Milk Bottle Toss is rigged and some fat kid who ate too much cotton candy is bound to vomit on your shoes. All of those things turned out to be true, but I also met Pythona—and the blowjob she gave me made up for a lot.

Pythona is not her real name, of course. The whole Reptile Woman thing is just a gimmick she uses to fleece the rubes. She puts on a teeny bikini and dances around with a drugged-up snake every night. Her dancing was no big deal, but the gross sacks of flesh hanging from Pythona's chest were another matter altogether. The horny lizard lady winked at me as her reptilian partner slithered across her crotch.

Thankfully, the sight of the two-headed cow made Elaine sick, leaving just enough time to score points with my sideshow slut. While my significant other barfed in the ladies' room, I found Pythona puffing a cigarette behind her tent.

"I guess you really are a snake

charmer," I said with a smile, "because you've got my trouser serpent at your beck and call." Pythona must appreciate a good opening line, because she stubbed out her smoke without a word. She brushed away some hay on the ground, got down on her knees and gently removed my erection from a boxer-shorts imprisonment. Just like that!

Pythona stuck the tip of my dick between her lips and slowly parted her teeth, allowing her deadly fangs to drag across my head. Then she ingested a few inches, digging her long fingernails into my legs for support. This was the best head I'd received in months—maybe ever. Elaine refuses to go down on me ever since I sprayed muck into her eye. On the other hand, Pythona seemed like the kind of girl who would take a gush or two wherever I felt like shooting it. After just a few sucks, the freak had me contemplating marriage.

That's when I felt it. Rough yet sensitive. Light yet powerful. Pythona's tongue was flicking my tool's underbelly. A little sandpaper, but precise. After some quick deep-throating, that distinctive tongue actually seemed to be wrapped around my pole. Amazing! When I pulled in and out of Pythona's mouth, I could feel the tongue coil and retract, over and over again. Just like the little woman's namesake. She had talent, and I couldn't wait another moment to learn what kind of surprises she held between her legs.

I pulled off Pythona's bikini bottoms to discover a clean-shaven, plump pussy with puckered lips. The least I could do was provide a little suck of gratitude. Placing both hands under her rear, I lifted the pungent pudenda to my mouth and extended light kisses to her perky clitoris. Pythona didn't make a sound. I licked up and down, stabbed, weaved and bobbed with my tongue, but there was still no reaction. Sure, Pythona clawed my back and held my head so tight in her lap, I couldn't breathe, but usually women are screaming my name before I even blow on their pubes. She was certainly sopping; so I decided to drive home my meat hammer.

When I climbed on top of Pythona and shoved my length into her loins, the lithe dancer stayed mum. Nevertheless, her eyes were pure fire. Just one hot stare from her was enough to get me fucking like an animal. I went for slow, deep thrusts. That seemed to do the trick. Pythona's head lolled around as if her neck were broken, and her mouth was frozen in a soundless scream. I stepped up the strokes, bouncing my ass and pounding that pussy with all my weight. Finally I heard one tiny but guttural gasp escape Pythona. The spasming ginch grip around my pride and joy tipped me off to her silent orgasm. I felt my own rush of testicular excitement and fired off a million sperm deep within Pythona's sex. After I came, I let my softening prick slide in and out of her gushing clam, just to savor the experience.

"Henry," I heard Elaine's voice cry. "Henry, are you coming?" In fact, I had just finished, and I rushed to don my pants before my girlfriend got too nosy. Don't get the impression that I'm a heel—I did kiss Pythona goodbye. Our probing, open-mouthed lip lock answered a few questions when I realized her tongue was split right down the middle. She couldn't talk, she loved to suck cock, and she was kind to animals. I guess you could call Pythona the perfect woman. Now, if I could just get her in a threeway with the Bearded Lady.

Half-Cocked

What You Should Know Before You Get a Penis Enlargement

By Alex Marvel

Lance D. has a little secret, and it gets out every time he takes off his pants. His private fear is that his penis is too small to be taken seriously. D.'s concern over cock inadequacy has plagued him since junior high. A puny seventh grader, he disrobed in a shower room full of postpubescent eighth graders with pubic hair, descended testicles and long, drooping tubes of flesh.

During high school, D. compulsively noticed that most of the other seventh graders developed into hefty, leg-swinging men. To D.'s perspective, his own appendage remained woefully stunted.

D.'s preoccupation with comparative cock size impacted negatively on every meaningful aspect of his life. After graduation, he never showered at a gym or pissed in public.

Women? D. shied away from making the first move. He pressed on only with sympathetic, tolerant females and tried to hook his bedmates on personality prior to bodily contact. Few ladies saw him naked. Despite all precautions, D.'s dates occasionally referred to his peter in diminutive terms.

After many years of doubt and dismay, D. sees ads for penile-augmentation surgery. Accredited surgeons promise increased width and length with a minimum of pain, a speedy recuperation and ready financing for those short-shrifted men who have no room left on their MasterCard.

The advertising fires D.'s imagination. He'll swagger at the YMCA. Perhaps he'll hate black men less. Or is D. being overcredulous?

He doesn't ask himself the hard questions. He raises thousands of dollars and tells his live-in girlfriend, Jane, that he's going out of town for the weekend. He intends to come back from the operation and surprise her with his ultradong. He pictures the look of delight and shock on her pleased face, and he sees the look of angered sorrow when he dumps her for several better chicks, ones that his new, big dick will give him the balls to score.

Two weeks later, reality is uglier than ever. D.'s formerly five-and-a-half-inch cock is actually smaller than before, barely stretching to five inches. A garish scar jags up the middle, with hair growing out of it. The wound is infected. Jane has laughed herself out of D.'s life, and, as the doctor's collection agency has made abundantly clear in ominous phone calls and mailings, D. has several payments left to make.

Dr. William Casey is a Los Angeles, California, urologist and psychiatrist who is on the clinical faculty of a local medical school. Dr. Casey has performed nearly 150 surgeries to lengthen or widen penises. He is not always a proponent of the operation.

"The operation's been oversold," says Dr. Casey. "All kinds of promises are made, and complications are not really discussed. The procedure is really designed for people who have what we might call a 'micropenis,' which is probably less than two inches when it is flaccid or soft."

"We think almost no one should have this procedure," adds Dr. Hunter Wessells, University of California San Francisco's clinical instructor of urology at San Francisco General Hospital.

Despite the reservations of experts, surgeons estimate that 10,000 to 15,000 widening or lengthening surgeries have been performed in the United States since the early 1990s. More than 30 Web sites are devoted to penile enlargement. Nationwide, 20 to 30 surgeons practice "phalloplasty," as the procedure is known, with a disproportionate half of these doctors centered in Southern California. The penis-augmentation industry produces an estimated $24 million in revenues a year.

Culver City, California, surgeon Dr. Melvyn Rosenstein, by his own estimate, performed 5,000 surgeries between 1991 and 1996, including the enlargement on John Wayne Bobbitt, the man whose penis was cut off by his disgruntled wife. Rosenstein's license to practice medicine was temporarily suspended by the California Medical Board in January 1996, pending a disciplinary hearing. More than 50 malpractice lawsuits were filed against the doctor. Distraught patients alleged everything from "excessive scarring" to "disfigurement, shortening and loss of use of the penis"; from "lumpiness" and "impotence" to "uneven surface and what appear to be cysts."

America is full of desperate, size-obsessed men, many of whom are uninformed about the potential for disaster during surgical enhancement of the penis. Surgeons' advertisements and Internet "discussions" posted by penis clinics downplay the dangers while overstating the chances for improvement.

Advertisements are run in national magazines, such as GQ and Penthouse, as well as in local entertainment guides and in newspaper sports sections. "There are some things even a good workout won't improve," laments one ad. But, insists another, "Dreams do come true." The ad copy promises "penile lengthening and enlargement...all natural, no implants or pumps...latest techniques for potency enhancement."

The mechanics of the lengthening procedure, called a "V-Y plasty," are described in similar terms by both the promotional materials and by objective doctors. A V incision is made to divide the suspensory ligaments that hold the base of the penis to the pubic bone. The scalpel cuts all the way to the bone, and the incision is sewn up to form a Y. When these ligaments are released, the penis can be brought forward, hanging further from the pelvis and achieving the appearance of additional length outside the body.

"You're not actually increasing the penis itself's length," explains Dr. Casey. "You'd have to cut the penis in half and put in grafts and things."

One promotional Web site for "penis enlargements" refers to the process as "a penile root advancement" and states, "The usual increase in penile length is one to two inches."

This wording allows the optimistic potential patient to conjecture that he may reap an "unusual" increase in length; maybe three or four inches. A more exact wording might say that two inches is the maximum gain probable and is by no means the average.

The ads also fail to mention that the additional two inches do not translate to extra hard-on.

"Contrary to what most people think," states Dr. Casey, "[the lengthening procedure] doesn't provide any increase in erection; maybe a half inch or so. The primary benefit is cosmetic in the flaccid state. [The procedure] doesn't add to the ability during intercourse. Most men don't seem to know that. They think longer penis, you get bigger erections. [The penis] hangs down lower, but it isn't really any longer."

Obesity is never addressed in any of the promotional literature, but guys who are exceedingly overweight often are dissatisfied with their dick length.

"If a person is obese or fat," points out Dr. Casey, "say 5-8, 220 pounds, he's got a large amount of fat, and the penis is kind of enveloped in that. The operation does not work very well, even though these people look like they need it. If they'd lose weight, they probably wouldn't consider the operation necessary. The penis would be longer, both erect and soft."

Augmentation mills encourage prospective patients to have two procedures, the so-called lengthening and the widening, performed simultaneously. The preferred operation for widening the penis is the dermal-fat graft.

More sophisticated and successful than the previously used fat injections, the dermal-fat graft entails cutting seven-inch, inch-wide strips of skin and fat from the patient's abdomen or the crease in his buttocks. Surface skin is scraped off the strips with a form of dermabrasion similar to treating skin pitted from acne. The smooth fat strips are grafted onto the penis shaft beneath the skin. The skin and veins of the penis are pulled up over the fat and stitched into place.

Sales material points out that the advantage of dermal-fat graft over fat injections is "its lower rate of absorption and nodule formation." Fat absorption means that any increase in size will be lost as the added fat cells melt into the body. This same document lists advantages of the outmoded fat-injection procedure as "simplicity," "short operative time and recovery period" and "the avoidance of additional incisions (scars)." According to the profiting experts, "the injection procedure's disadvantages of fat absorption and nodule formation can be minimized by limiting the amount of fat that is injected at one time."

Some disadvantages of fat injection, such as the small number of deaths that have occurred, cannot be minimized.

Dr. Casey has treated a number of patients who risked fat injection. "One of them developed a cyst that was about the size of an orange around the penis; a liquid, oily fat cyst that we had to remove. Injection of fat is terrible. It forms multiple small lumps in the penis, and it can calcify in areas. Also they've had some problems with—unfortunately—deaths from the injection of the fat, which got into the circulation. Plastic surgeons used to use fat for breast enlargement ten, 15 years ago. They stopped because it didn't work. It formed lumps, it calcified. My opinion is that it shouldn't be used at all for penile widening for those reasons.

"The malpractice-insurance companies don't cover fat injections," summarizes Dr. Casey.

Dr. Casey also believes that the V-Y plasty and the dermal-fat graft, if they are done at all, should be done separately. He understands that not all practitioners agree with him.

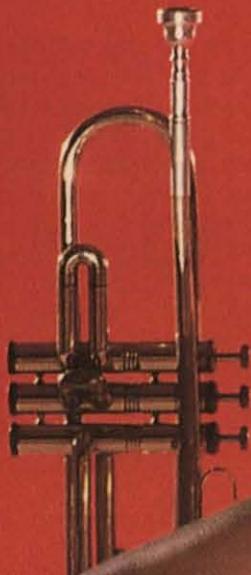

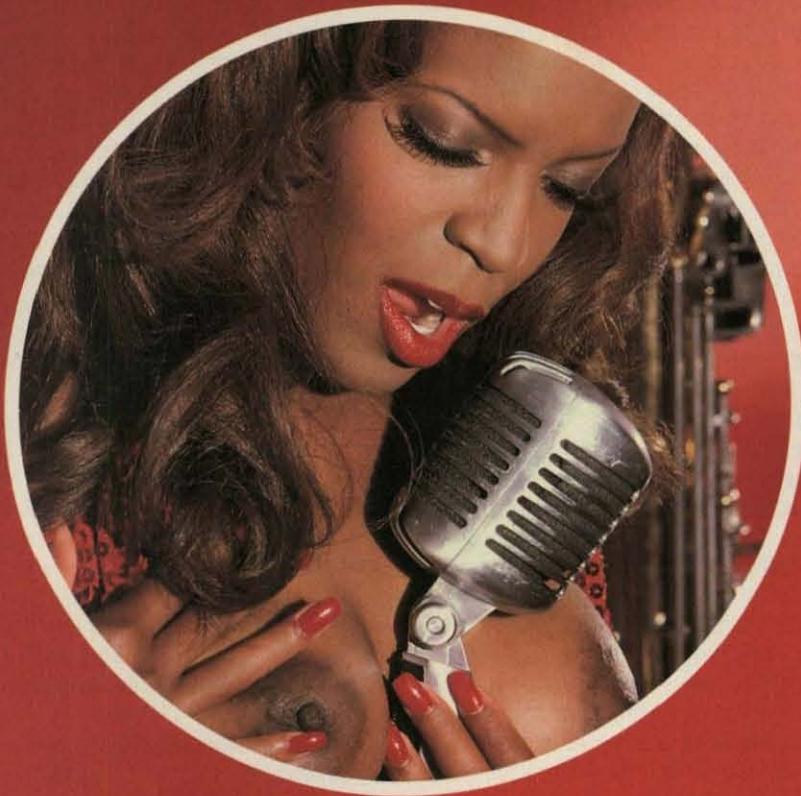

"A lot of people work on commission selling the operation," points out Dr. Casey. "I've done lengthening combined with widening, and the main problem has been excessive scarring. In an effort to prevent that, we will do the lengthening first, and then maybe three or four months later, we will do what's called the augmentation, or making the penis wider."

What's so bad about a few scars? "Any operation heals with a scar," says Dr. Casey. "Some people form excessive scar." Dr. Casey points out that heavy scarring at the incision of a V-Y plasty will pull the penis back and in some instances may actually shorten the penis. One way to counter this shrinkage is to hang weights from the penis a few days after surgery to help combat scar tissue. The promotional literature fails to address this daunting aspect of aftercare.

Would-be patients might be relieved that weights may help if the operation goes haywire, but then again maybe nothing will help. In penis augmentation, as in any other surgical procedure, there are no guarantees. ☀

"Whew! I wouldn't fuck that with your tongue."

"NO JUSTICE, NO PEACE"

RENEGADE JURIES TURN BLACK CRIMINALS
LOOSE ON THEIR OWN COMMUNITIES

REPORT BY PETER ARNO

ILLUSTRATION BY MARY FLEENER

Juries dominated by African Americans are deciding cases on the basis of race rather than fact. A prominent law professor argues that blacks are duty bound to rebel against white society by acquitting young black men of crimes they have likely committed. HUSTLER examines the justifications for jury revolt and reports on who suffers when guilty men go free.

Juries

In a number of recent trials, black juries have ignored a preponderance of evidence and used their power to free black criminals accused of violent crimes.

Prosecutors claimed that Davon Neverdon accosted Joel Lee, a 21-year-old Towson State University student, outside a northeast Baltimore, Maryland, apartment complex and attempted to rob him at gunpoint of $20—money Neverdon purportedly needed to eat at McDonald's. When Lee failed to turn his wallet over quickly enough, Neverdon, according to testimony, shot him below the right eye. Four witnesses testified that they saw the murder. Two more witnesses came forward to state that Neverdon confessed his crime to them. Gerald Horne, currently serving a ten-year sentence on an unrelated assault conviction, testified that Neverdon arrived at his home shortly after the murder, gave him a .25-caliber pistol and said he'd used it to kill someone. Horne got rid of the gun.

Sure that a trial would lead to his conviction, Neverdon offered to plead guilty in exchange for a 40-year sentence; but the prosecutor refused to plea-bargain at the request of Joel Lee's family, who wanted Neverdon to bear the full brunt of justice.

On July 28, 1995, after only 11 hours of deliberation, a jury voted to acquit Davon Neverdon of Lee's murder, and he was set free. Prior to the verdict, an Asian-American jury member sent a note to the judge that warned, "Race may be playing some part" in jury discussions. The other 11 members of the jury were African Americans. So is Davon Neverdon. The victim, Joel Lee, was Korean.

* * * *

Black condemnations of police harassment and brutality and of unfair treatment in the courts have sounded from the days of Jim Crow to the trials of O. J. Simpson and the sheriff's deputies accused of beating Rodney King. Recently, angry African Americans have resorted to jury nullification as a way to strike back at a justice system that is perceived as the enemy. Though judges, cops, prosecutors and the general public may find this tactic immoral and infuriating, it is perfectly legal and, once implemented, irreversible.

Only a jury can impose the final verdict in a criminal case. If the members of this panel find a law unfair or unjust, they can simply vote to acquit, even if the evidence pointing to a defendant's guilt is overwhelming. No judge can overturn a jury's ruling, and a defendant cannot be tried twice for the same crime.

In a number of recent trials, black juries have ignored a preponderance of evidence and used their power to free black criminals accused of violent crimes.

"It's terrible and sad that juries will base their opinions on race bias rather than the facts, but it happens every day," says

Assistant State's Attorney Ahmet Hisim, who lost the Davon Neverdon case.

Kenneth Lee, Joel Lee's father, has vowed to fight until his son's murderer answers for his crime. "My trust is broken," he says. "The system here is not working. Since my son is killed, someone should be punished."

Joel Lee's killer isn't the only one getting away with murder.

On August 19, 1992, in Crown Heights, Brooklyn, a Hasidic Jew struck two black children with his car. Seven-year-old Gavin Cato was killed, and his cousin was seriously injured. Rumors spread through the neighborhood that paramedics who had arrived on the scene treated the Jewish driver before helping the two children who were pinned beneath the automobile.

A large, angry crowd gathered near the accident site and hurled rocks and bottles. Amid the crush of people was Lemrick Nelson, a 17-year-old African-American boy who joined the mob as it moved toward an avenue of Jewish shops and residences, chanting, "No justice, no peace." Yankel Rosenbaum, 29, an Australian student visiting America to pursue his studies of the Holocaust, was seen walking along the sidewalk. Someone shouted, "There's a Jew; get the Jew," and Nelson and the others chased Rosenbaum across the street, cornered him and attacked. Nelson allegedly stabbed Rosenbaum in the mid-section, and the crowd left him bleeding in the street.

Police apprehended Nelson a block away from the crime scene. In his pocket they found a bloody knife with the name KILLER etched in the handle. The teenager was brought before Rosenbaum, who positively identified Nelson as the man who had stabbed him. In the early hours of the following morning, Rosenbaum died in his hospital bed. A short while later, Nelson confessed to the knifing to police. On August 26, he was charged with second-degree murder.

On October 29, after four days of deliberation, a jury acquitted Lemrick Nelson of all charges. The panel was composed of six blacks, four Hispanics and two whites. After handing down their verdict, jurors claimed the case against Nelson was weak because it depended on police witnesses.

Norman Rosenbaum, the victim's brother, expressed outrage at the apparent miscarriage of justice, pleading, "My brother looked [Nelson] in the eye, and he identified this person, this murderer." In the fractious climate of America's courts, Rosenbaum's deathbed identification wasn't enough.

All day Tara's been flirting with Dirk: sunbathing topless, rubbing oil on her mounds, even playing with herself when she knew the lanky lifeguard was watching.

"Come on," she pants, "I'm dying." But bad as he wants her, Dirk's not allowed to leave his post. "What if someone needs to be saved?"

That gives Tara an idea. She swims out a way, then screams for Dirk as she goes under. Tragically, only her thong bikini floats to the top. Dirk reacts fast. Without a thought for himself, he grabs the rescue boat and dives in. He gives her mouth-to-mouth, then cock-to-mouth, massaging her chest and slapping her cheeks to bring her around. Licking the foam from her lips, Tara whispers weakly, and Dirk leans over to see how he can help.

"More cock," she pleads, "in my ass." It's going to be rough, but Dirk's trained hard, and he's ready to do his duty.

"Hold on." He climbs aboard and starts to ride her in.

Amazingly, the jury found Bozeman innocent of using drug profits to buy his mother a $282,500 home, a crime Bozeman had admitted to in his own closing arguments.

Other black defendants have made direct appeals to black juries in the name of race loyalty.

In July 1994, Erick Bozeman was charged with running a sophisticated international drug ring that imported cocaine from Cali, Colombia, and distributed the drug nationwide in hollowed-out computers. Prosecutors claimed that Bozeman had sold more than 2,000 pounds of coke since 1992. At the time of his arrest, Bozeman allegedly held 19 bank accounts and had stockpiled $30 million in currency.

During the trial, prosecutors presented 400 tapes of recorded phone conversations in which Bozeman ordered drugs from his Colombian supplier (sometimes 300 pounds at a time) and negotiated drug transactions with clients. U.S. attorneys presented computer records detailing sales, profits and expenses. Authorities seized more than 107 pounds of cocaine at one of Bozeman's temporary residences, and more than 60 pounds were intercepted at Hartsfield International Airport, in Atlanta, after investigators learned the details of a sale arranged by Bozeman.

Arguing on his own behalf, Bozeman pleaded with the jury to acquit him because he is black. He claimed that the U.S. government's "war on drugs" was part of a genocidal campaign against blacks that has "existed in one way or another since African prisoners arrived in 1619 as slaves." He described his role of drug middleman as "a broker, just like Michael Milken and Ivan Boesky," and railed against "racist crack laws." Bozeman concluded his remarks by "saluting all the brothers who refuse to cooperate" with the prosecution.

Although the jury found Bozeman guilty of the lesser charges of selling cocaine and conspiracy, they acquitted on five charges and hung on the most serious count of the indictment after three black jurors voted to acquit Bozeman on the charge of being a drug "kingpin," which carries a mandatory life sentence. Amazingly, the jury found Bozeman innocent of using drug profits to buy his mother a $282,500 home, a crime Bozeman had admitted to in his own closing arguments.

"We're stunned," admitted Assistant U.S. Attorney Janis Gordon after the verdict. "It doesn't make sense."

All three jurors who voted to acquit on the kingpin charge denied that race was a factor in their decisions. One of the three, Ulysses Garror, said, "There wasn't enough there to convict." But Russell Snellgrove, a white juror, voiced suspicion: "I hate to say this, [but] it could have been a racial thing. The [minority panel members] didn't come out and say it, but their arguments were such that it was apparent."

Despite the surprising verdict, Bozeman did not get off lightly. At the sentencing hearing, a furious Judge Clarence Cooper, who is also black, upbraided Bozeman for attempting to shift the blame for his crimes. Asking Bozeman if he "comprehended all the lives [he] ruined," the judge handed him two life sentences plus 20 years.

Paul Butler is an associate professor at George Washington University Law School and a former special assistant United States attorney in the District of Columbia. In an article published in the Washington Post after the verdict in the O. J. Simpson trial, Butler offered an explanation for, and a defense of, renegade juries. "Black jurors...acquit people they know are guilty because their view of justice sometimes demands that a black person not be sent to prison."

Jury nullification is, for Butler, the only legal means for an oppressed minority to exercise power over the system: "We had to beg Mr. Lincoln to give us the right not to be slaves. We had to plead with the Congress to allow us to vote. We had to convince the Supreme Court to let our children go to integrated schools.... At least when we serve on juries we have real power to disagree with what the government tells us justice is."

In an article for the Yale Law Journal, Butler went further, proposing that black jurors should free guilty defendants in "victimless crimes," such as drug possession, or "non-violent" crimes, such as theft. Jurors, he suggested, should determine in each case whether or not sending a black defendant to prison is beneficial to the black community. "A juror might vote for acquittal, for example, when a poor woman steals from Tiffany's, but not when the same woman steals from her next-door neighbor."

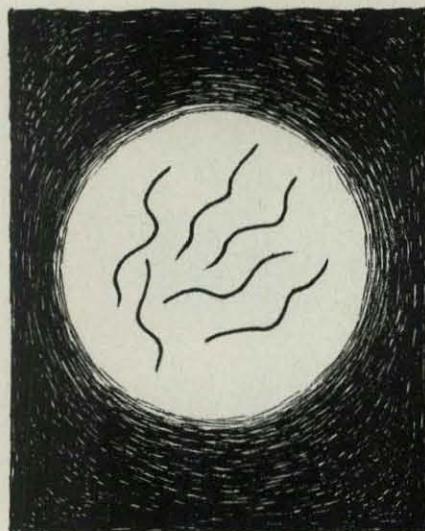

Expressing dismay that "some black jurors now excuse some conduct—like murder—that they should not excuse," Butler was nevertheless overjoyed by the O. J. Simpson verdict, despite his opinion that "[Simpson] probably did it."

"When O. J.'s sister said she felt like standing on a table and dancing a jig," writes Butler, "I celebrated with her.... I danced my freedom dance, along with my sisters and brothers all over the world."

On its face, Darryl Smith's trial for the murder of Willie Wilson seemed unlikely to provoke charges of a race-based verdict. Both the victim and the accused killer were black, as were most of the witnesses and all 12 members of the jury. Nevertheless,

"Jury nullification in pursuit of racial justice is often...spectacularly self-destructive: Those 'saved' for the supposed good of the black community mainly prey on the black community."

the jury's verdict and a letter sent to the court after the trial ignited a furious debate.

The killing took place August 2, 1988, in a stairwell of the Capitol View Plaza, a squalid housing project in Washington, D.C. Willie Wilson, a drug dealer, was confronted by three men whom prosecutors claimed were rival crack dealers: Darryl Smith, Lamaar Young and Larry Epps. A single shot was fired—payback, Young would later testify, for shots fired at Smith and his friends the night before.

Detectives working with Assistant U.S. Attorney G. Paul Howes interrogated Young for two days. His mother pleaded, on her knees, for the 16-year-old to tell the truth to the police. Finally, Young told detectives that he had handed Smith the weapon, then watched while Smith gunned Wilson down. Prosecutors promptly charged him as an accessory to first-degree murder. Howes told Young he could plea-bargain for a lesser charge if he testified against Smith.

Darryl Smith did not appear to be a defendant that would elicit much sympathy from the nine women and three men on the jury, who expressed shock at his admissions that he had traded a $10 rock of crack to a pregnant woman in exchange for sexual services. Presenting evidence of Smith's motive and his opportunity to kill Willie Wilson and calling to the stand two men who had seen him commit the crime, prosecutors were confident of a conviction.

On March 6, the jury returned their verdict: not guilty. Smith jumped up and fell backward out of his chair.

Three weeks later, a letter from an anonymous juror arrived at the Washington, D.C., Superior Court. The letter said that most of the jurors had, in fact, thought the defendant guilty, but that they had given in to those who "didn't want to send any more Young Black Men to Jail [sic]." The sender felt that Smith should be "put on trial again" and said, "I hope God will forgive me." God's forgiveness notwithstanding, the Constitution is clear: The right to protection against double jeopardy makes a new trial impossible. As far as the law is concerned, Darryl Smith is an innocent man.

Much of the blame for the verdict was directed toward the jury forewoman, Valerie L. Blackmon. Jurors claimed that, prior to deliberations, she handed out "Farrakhan literature" published by the Nation of Islam and that she wore a button calling for a separate black state. Juror Thomasena Hart, a registered nurse, claimed Blackmon had been "saying that everything that happens to a black person, society is to blame. Like you would be justified if you went out and robbed a bank if you couldn't get a job."

Blackmon insisted her doubts were based on a lack of evidence. Hart, however, was skeptical of Blackmon's true motives. "If we'd have had a Polaroid print, I don't believe she'd have found that man guilty."

In a Wall Street Journal essay, Harvard Law School Professor Randall Kennedy argues against jury nullification and "the response that cries 'racism' as part of an all-out defense of any black accused of wrongdoing by 'white' authorities, regardless of the facts of the case."

Although he does allow that there are circumstances in which jury nullification may be justified, Kennedy asserts that in recent cases, "the suspects are not in any meaningful sense 'political prisoners.' Nor are they innocent victims of racist conspiracies." He also points out that, "Jury nullification in pursuit of racial justice is often...spectacularly self-destructive: Those 'saved' for the supposed good of the black community mainly prey on the black community."

Disregarding the threat posed by freed offenders, nullification advocate Paul Butler contends that, "It is, in fact, the moral responsibility of black jurors to emancipate some guilty black outlaws." Considering the high percentage of young black men behind bars, he insists that, "As long as a person will not hurt anyone, the community needs him there to help."

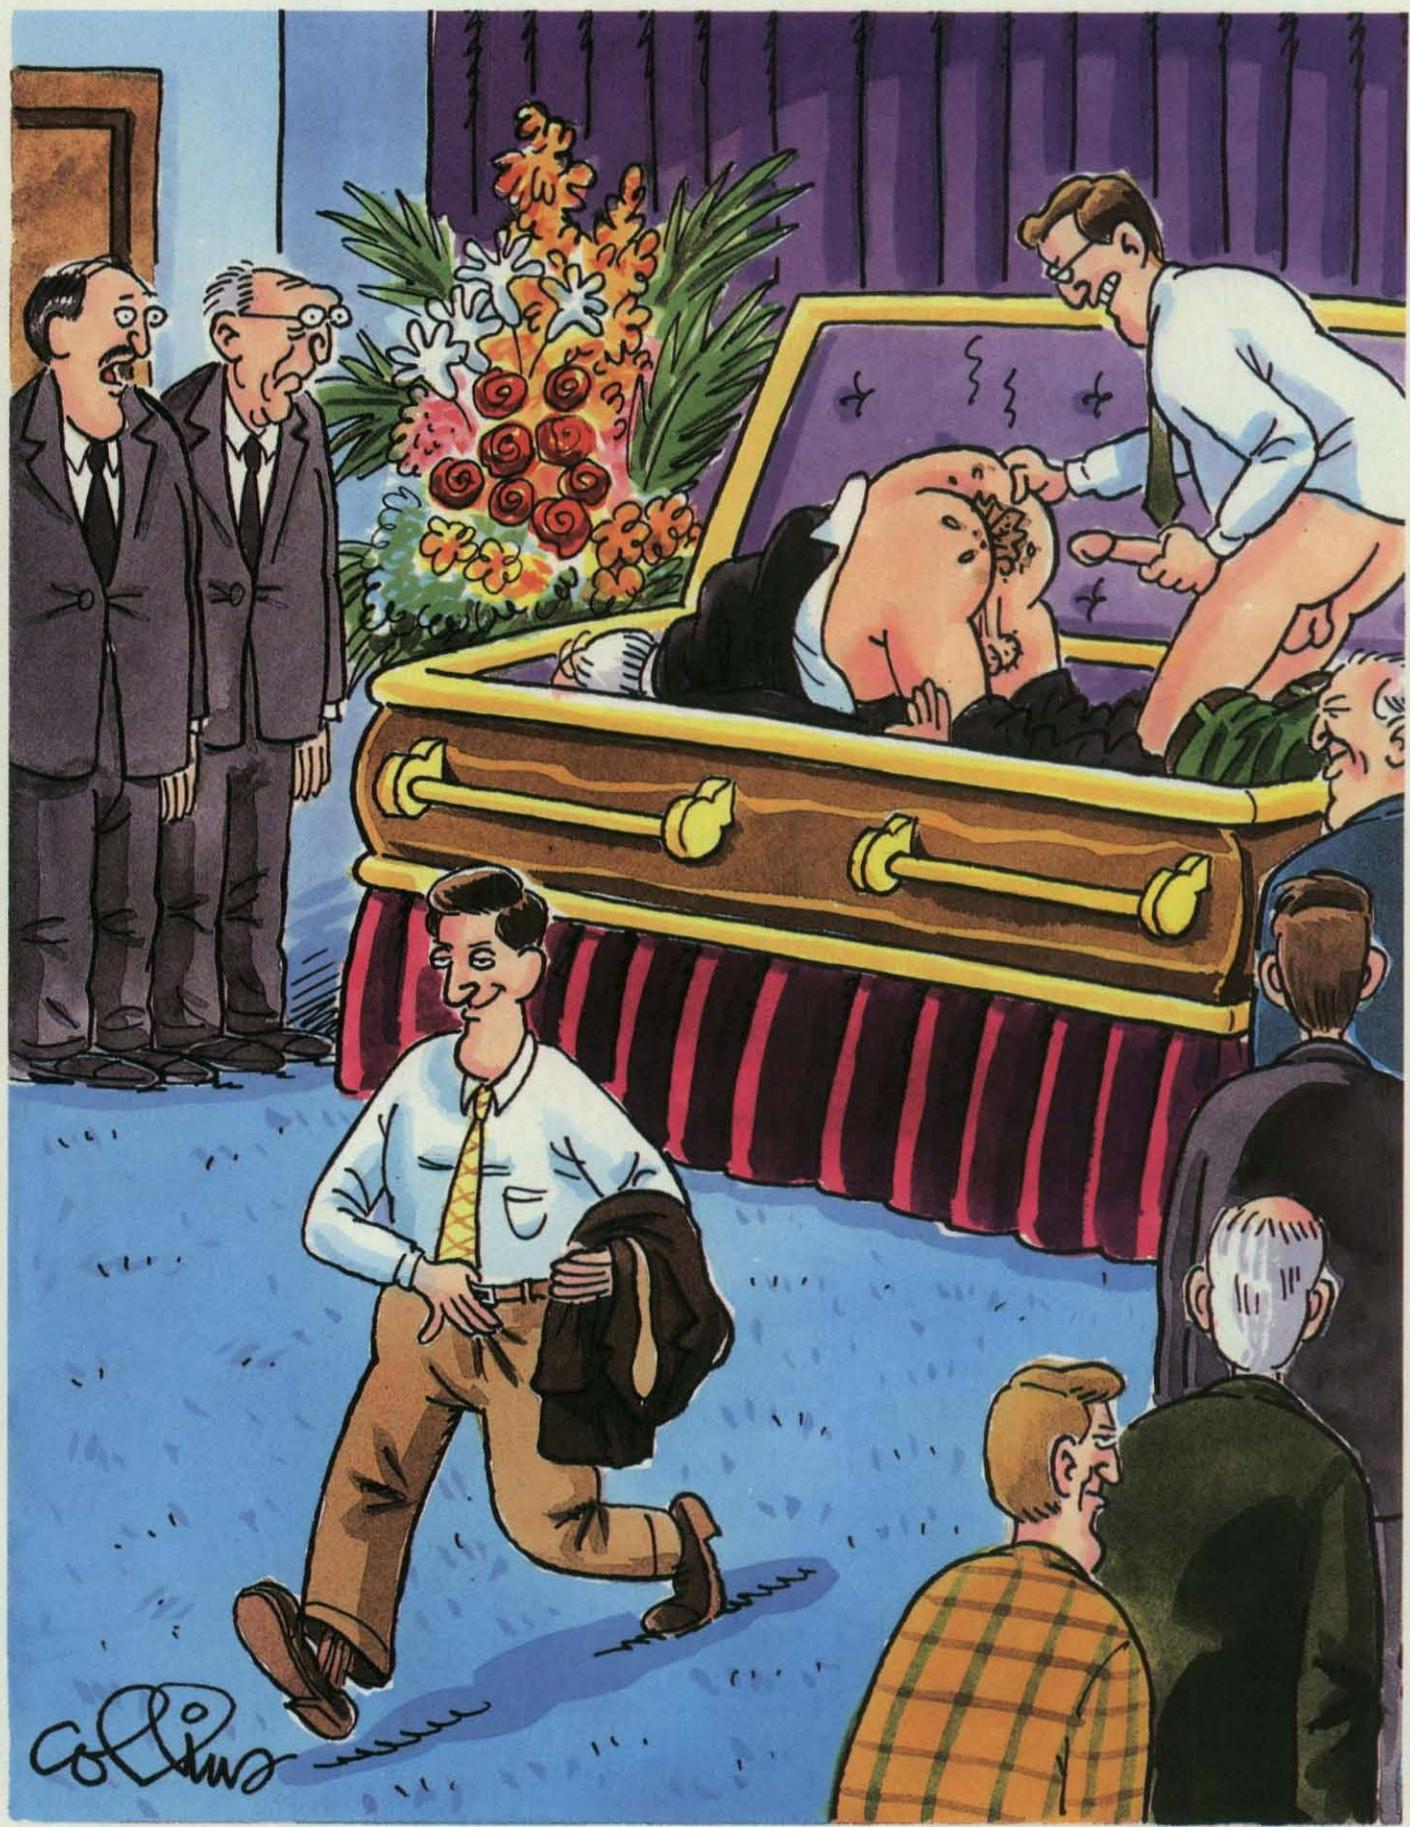

One way to test Professor Butler's theory is to examine the contributions the defendants discussed in this article have made to their community since their release:

Davon Neverdon was arrested for drug distribution in Baltimore, Maryland, on June 17, 1994. He was convicted on September 22 of that year.

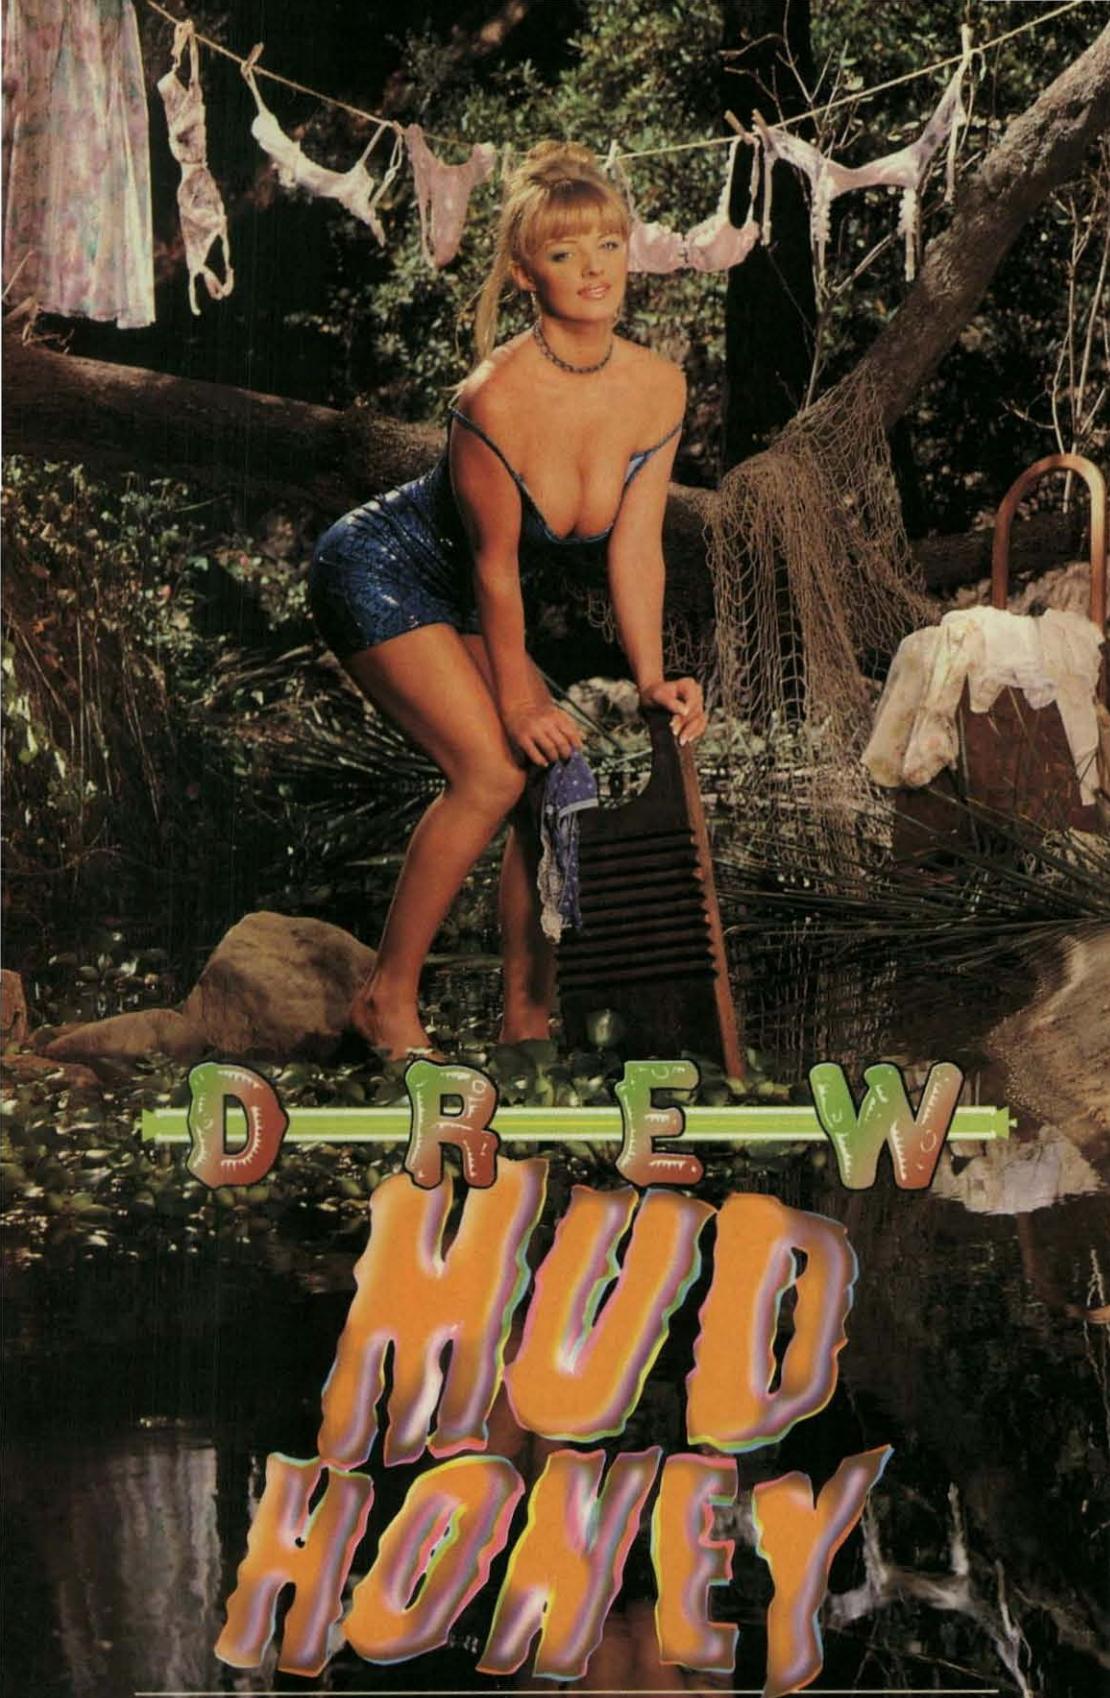

Lemrick Nelson moved to Atlanta, Georgia, where he lived with friends and attended high school. Nelson, then 18, attacked a classmate with a razor blade as punishment for reporting him when he stole money from another classmate. He pleaded guilty on February 6, 1995.

One week after a jury freed him, the U.S. Attorney indicted Darryl Smith on another charge of first-degree murder. Prosecutors claim Smith was an accessory to the shooting of a driver in the same part of town, one day before Willie Wilson was killed. Smith, it is alleged, wanted the victim's Nissan Maxima because his own had broken down and needed a new transmission.

"I guess he wasn't real well liked!"

Two missionaries in Africa got apprehended by a tribe of cannibals who threw them into a large pot of water and started a fire underneath it.

A few minutes later, one of the missionaries started laughing uncontrollably.

Dismayed, his partner said, "What's wrong with you? We're sitting in a pot, about to be boiled alive and eaten by heathen cannibals. What could possibly be funny at a time like this?"

The other missionary giggled and said, "I just peed in the soup."

Question: What do you call a dead blonde lying in a closet?

Answer: The 1985 Hide and Seek World Champion.

The dying man gasped pitifully. "Give me one last request, Jane," he pleaded.

"Of course, Bill," she said softly.

"Six months after I die," he went on, "I want you to marry Joe."

"But I thought you hated Joe," she said.

With his last breath, he replied, "I do."

Late at night, a slightly inebriated captain at the wheel of a ship saw a light dead ahead and approaching fast on a collision course. He immediately sent out a warning signal: "Change your course ten degrees north!"

The light signaled back: "Change yours ten degrees south!"

Pissed off, the captain sent: "I'm a U.S. Navy captain! Change your course, sir!"

The reply: "I'm a seaman, second class. Change your course, sir!"

Furious now, the captain signaled: "I'm a battleship, sailor! I'm not changing course!"

The final reply: "I'm a lighthouse. Your call."

Nervous about assisting on an operation for the first time, the med student asked, "What are we operating for, Dr. Anderson?"

The doctor replied, "Five hundred dollars."

"I meant, what does the patient have?" inquired the student.

Impatiently, the doctor said, "I just told you. Five hundred dollars."

A hillbilly was on trial for making moonshine whiskey. A young neighbor of his was being grilled by the prosecution.

"Did you ever get any whiskey from him?" asked the prosecutor.

"No, sir," said the neighbor.

"Did you ever get any from his wife?" asked the prosecutor.

"No, sir," said the boy.

"Did you get any from his daughter?" asked the prosecutor.

The young neighbor thought a minute and said, "Your Honor, are you still talking about whiskey?"

On a particularly slow day, Superman was flying in circles with nothing to do. He looked around with his X-ray vision and happened to notice Wonder Woman lying on a bed, spread-eagled and stark naked.

Superman decided to get a little action; so he flew down, boned her superfast and took off.

Somewhat startled, Wonder Woman exclaimed, "What was that?"

The Invisible Man got off her and replied, "I don't know, but it hurt like hell."

The HUSTLER Dictionary defines bachelor as: a guy who can ball without the chain.

A guy came home early one afternoon from his job at the deli and told his wife, "Honey, I got my dick caught in the pickle slicer and got fired."

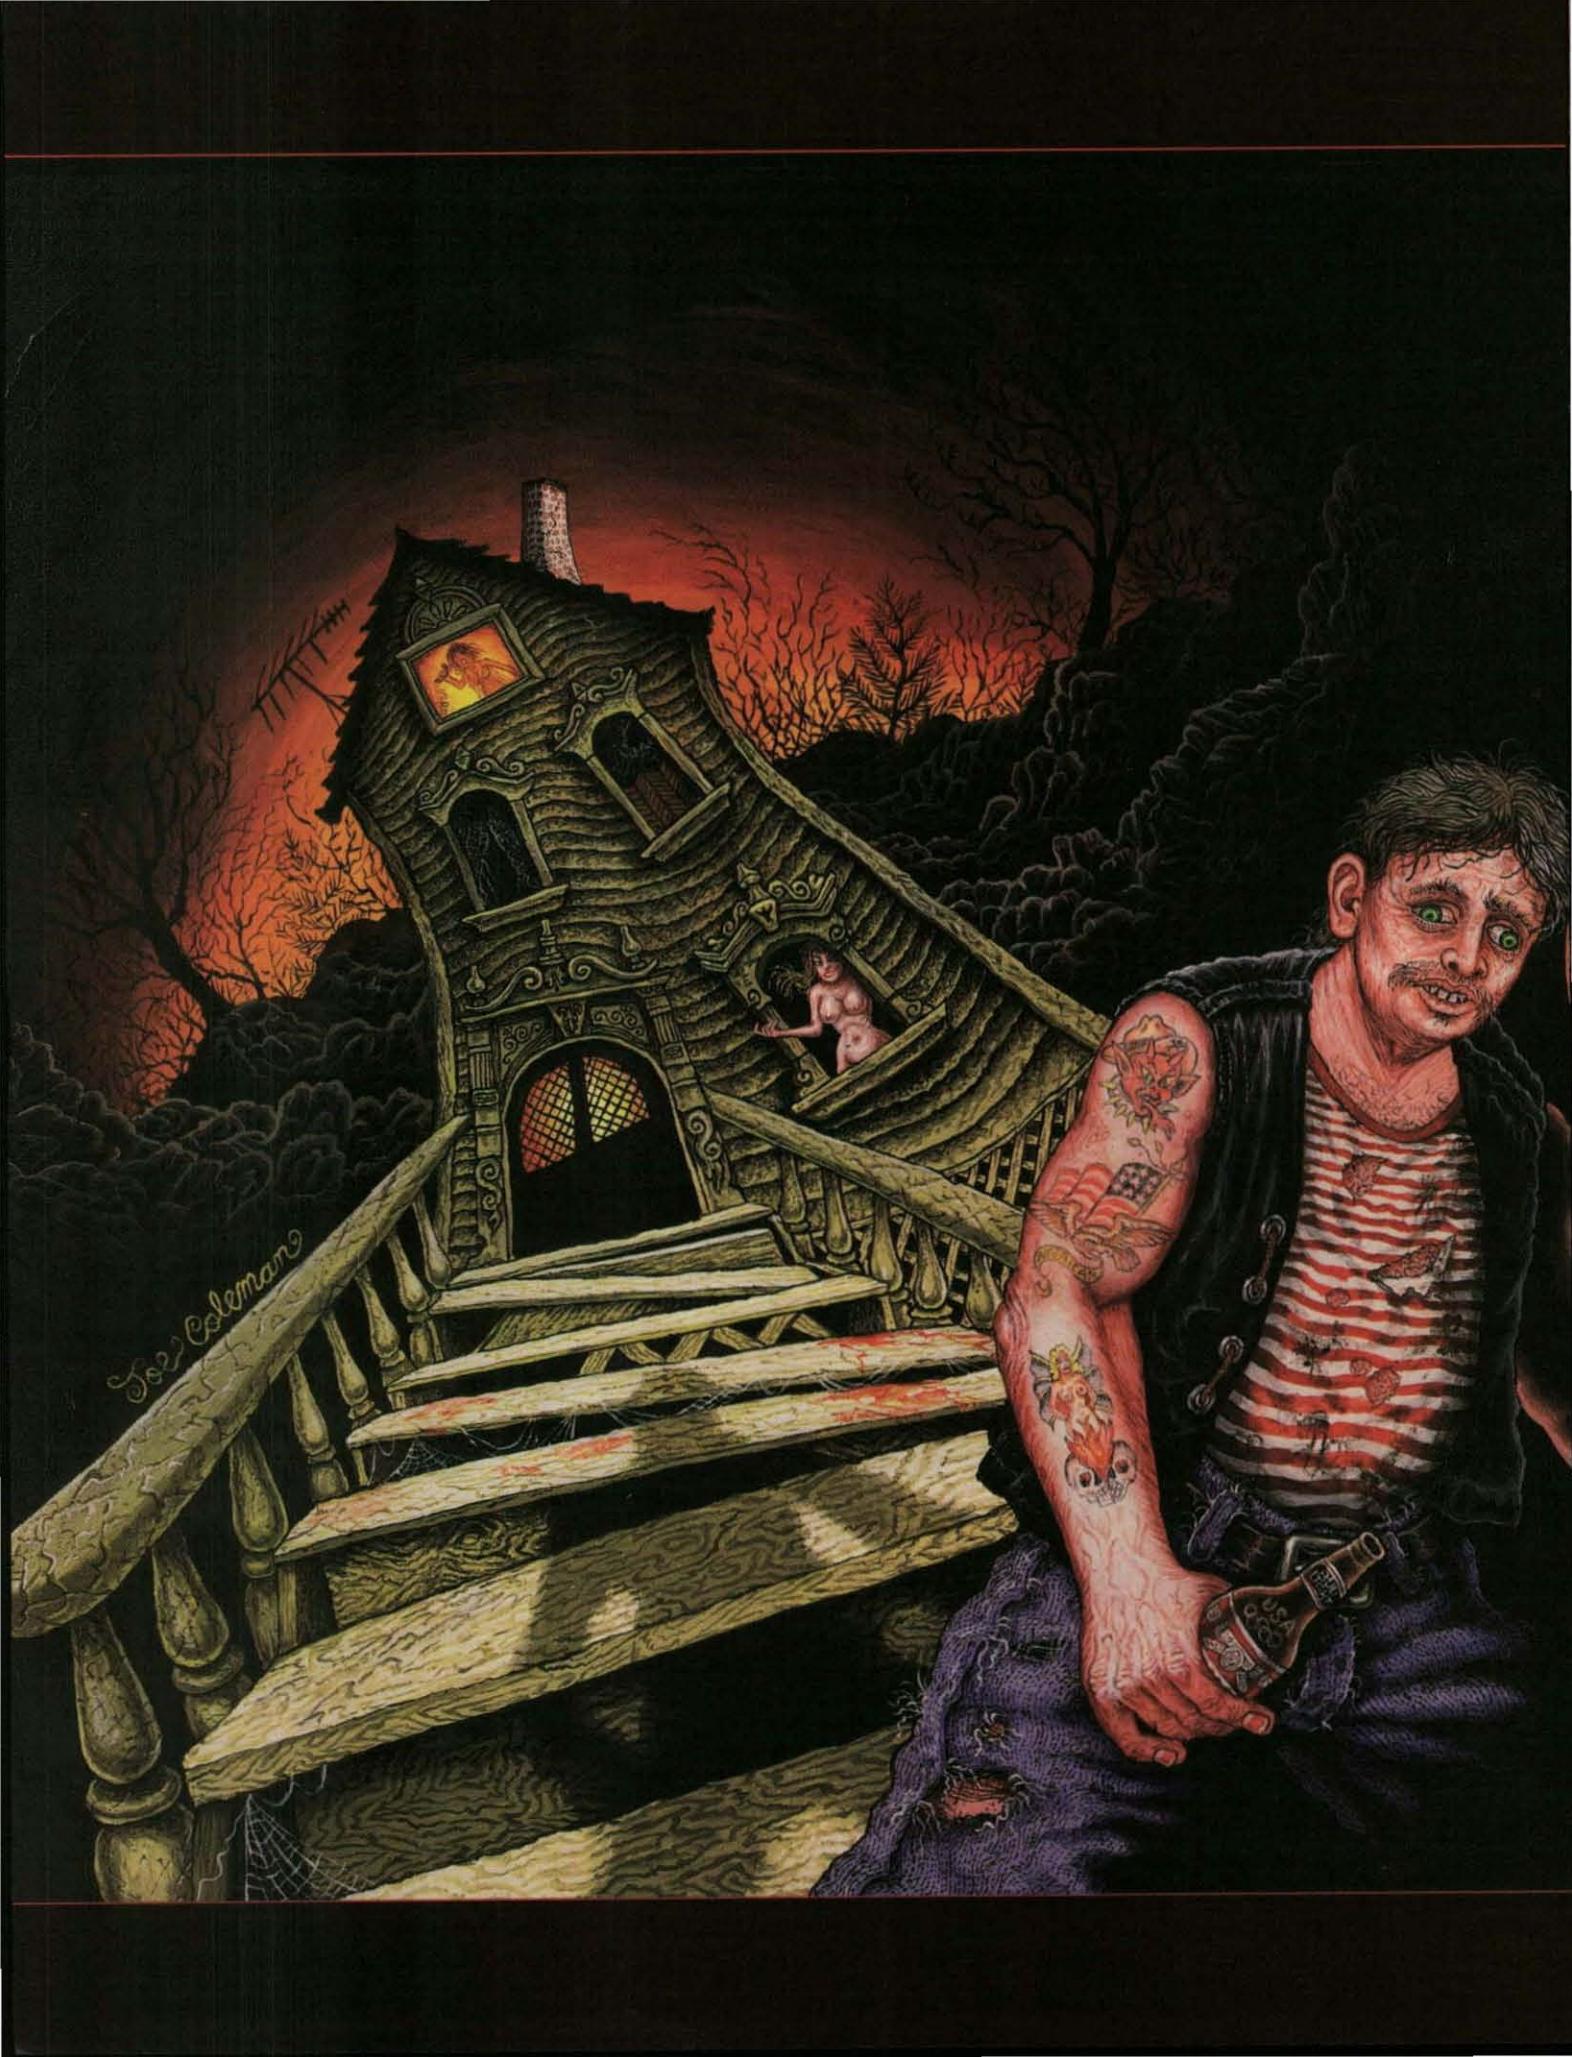

His wife rushed over, pulled down his pants and said, "There's nothing wrong with your dick. What happened to the pickle slicer?"

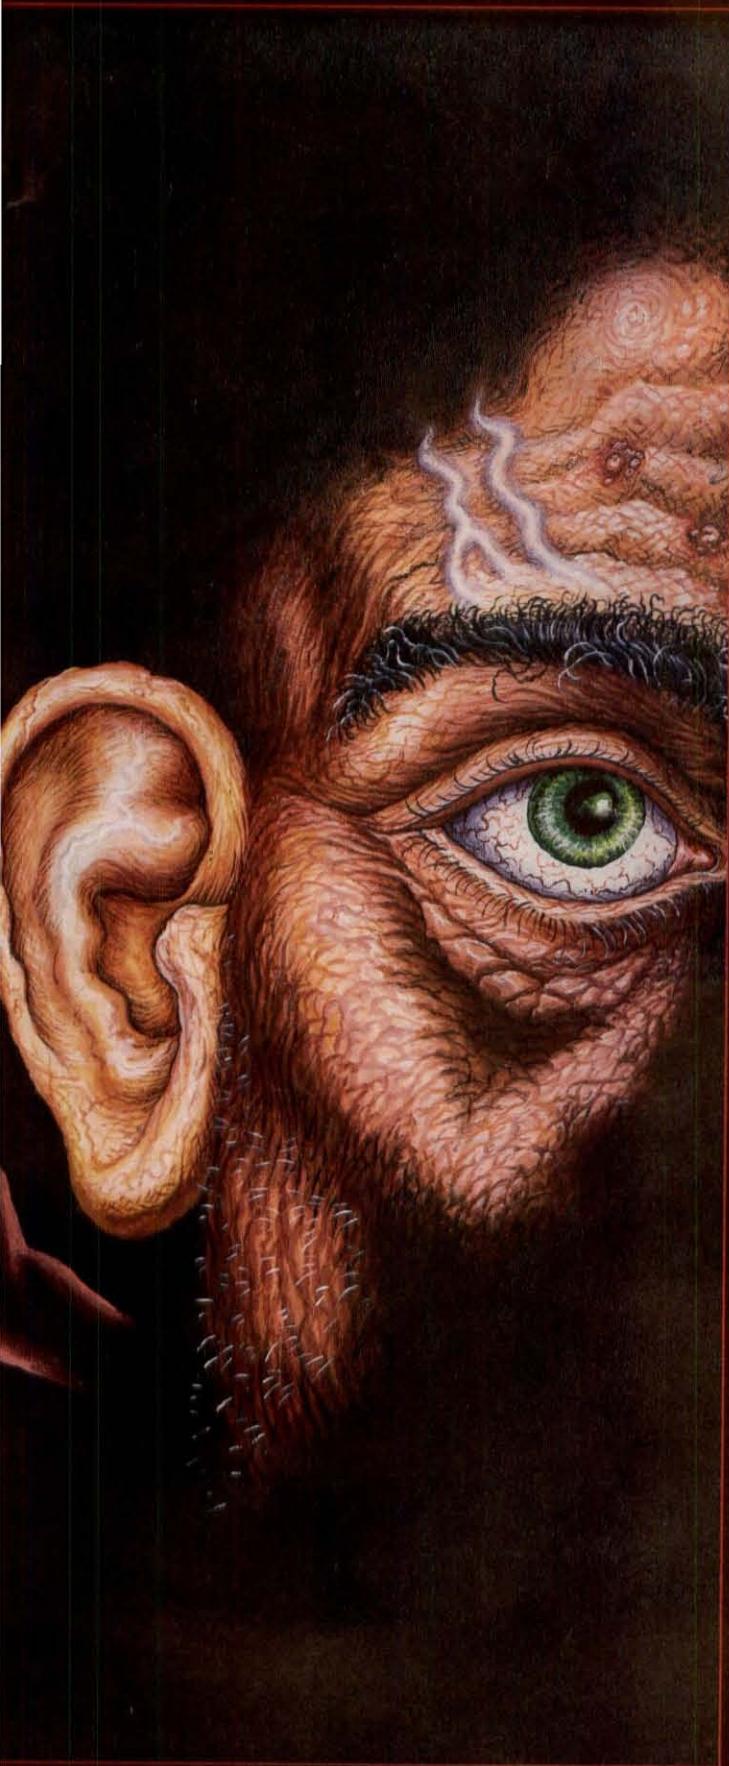

He replied, "She got fired too."

"Going out tonight, Son?"

TWO MEN

FICTION BY DENIS JOHNSON
ILLUSTRATION BY JOE COLEMAN

I met the first man as I was going home from a dance at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall. I was being taken out of the dance by my two good friends. I had forgotten my friends had come with me, but they were there. Once again I hated the two of them. The three of us had formed a group based on something erroneous, some basic misunderstanding that hadn't yet come to light, and so we kept on in one another's company, going to bars and having conversations. Generally one of these false coalitions died after a day or a day and a half, but this one lasted more than a year. Later on one of them got hurt when we were burglarizing a pharmacy, and the other two of us dropped him bleeding at the back entrance of the hospital and he was arrested and all the bonds were dissolved. We bailed him out later, and still later all the charges against him were dropped, but we'd torn open our chests and shown our cowardly hearts, and you can never stay friends after something like that.

This evening at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall I'd backed a woman up behind the huge air-conditioning unit while we were dancing, and kissed her and unbuttoned her pants and put my hand down the front of them. She'd been married to a friend of mine until about a year before, and I'd always thought we'd probably get mixed up together, but her boyfriend, a mean, skinny, intelligent man who I happened to feel inferior to, came around the corner of the machine and glowered at us and told her to go out and get in the car. I was afraid he'd take some sort of action, but he disappeared just as quickly as she did. The rest of the evening I wondered, every second, if he would come back with friends and make something painful and degrading happen. I was carrying a gun, but it wasn't as if I would actually have used it. It was so cheap, I was sure it would explode in my hands if I ever pulled the trigger. So it could only add to my humiliation—afterwards people, usually men talking to women in my imagination, would say, "He had a gun, but he never even took it out of his pants." I drank as much as I could until the western combo stopped singing and playing and the lights came up.

The rest of the evening I wondered, every second, if he would come back with friends and make something painful and degrading happen.

My two friends and I went to get into my little green Volkswagon, and we discovered the man I started to tell you about, the first man, sleeping deeply in the back seat.

"Who's this?" I asked my two friends. But they'd never seen him before either.

We got him awake, and he sat up. He was something of a hulk, not so tall that his head hit the roof, but really broad, with a thick face and close-cropped hair. He wouldn't get out of the car.

This man pointed to his own ears and to his mouth, signalling that he couldn't hear or talk.

"What do you do in a situation like this?" I said.

"Well, I'm getting in. Move over," Tom said to the man, and got in the back seat with him.

Richard and I got in the front. We all three turned to the companion.

He pointed straight ahead and then laid his cheek on his hands, indicating beddy-bye. "He just wants a ride home." Tom had such sharp features that his moods looked even worse than they were.

Using sign language, the passenger showed us where to take him. Tom relayed the directions, because I couldn't see the man while I was driving. "Take a right—a left here—he wants you to slow down—he's looking for the place—" and like that.

We drove with the windows down. The mild spring evening, after several frozen winter months, was like a foreigner breathing in our faces. We took our passenger to a residential street where the buds were forcing themselves out of the tips of branches and the seeds were moaning in the gardens.

He was as bulky as an ape, we saw when he was out of the car, and dangled his hands as if he might suddenly go down and start walking on his knuckles.

He glided up the walk of one particular home and banged on the door. A light went on in the second story, the curtain moved, and the light went out. He was back at the car, thumping on the roof with his hand, before I got the thing in gear to pull away and leave him.

He draped himself over the front of my VW and seemed to pass out.

"Wrong house, maybe," Richard suggested.

"I can't navigate with him like that," I said.

"Take off," Richard said, "and slam on the brakes."

"The brakes aren't working," Tom told Richard.

"The emergency brake works," I assured everybody.

Tom had no patience. "All you have to do is move this car, and he'll fall off."

"I don't want to hurt him."

We ended it by hefting him into the back seat, where he slumped against the window.

Now we were stuck with him again. Tom laughed sarcastically. We all three lit cigarettes.

"Here comes Caplan to shoot off my legs," I said, looking in terror at a car as it came around the corner and then passed by. "I was sure it was him," I said as its taillights disappeared down the block.

"Are you still worried about Alsatia?"
"I was kissing her."

"There's no law against that," Richard said.

"It's not her lawyer I'm worried about."

"I don't think Caplan's that serious about her. Not enough to kill you, or anything like that."

"What do you think about all this?" I asked our drunken buddy.

He started snoring ostentatiously.

"This guy isn't really deaf—are you, hey," Tom said.

"What do we do with him?"

"Take him home with us."

"Not me," I said.

"One of us should, anyway."

"He lives right there," I insisted. "You could tell by the way he knocked."

I got out of the car.

I went back to the house and rang the doorbell and stepped back off the porch, looking up at the overhead window in the dark. The white curtain moved again, and a woman said something.

All of her was invisible except the shadow of her hand on the curtain's border. "If you don't take him off our street

ASHLEY DESERT FOX

PHOTOGRAPHY BY MATTI KLATT

Ashley loves the high desert. "Out alone in the vast, open spaces, taking in the silent, geographical wonders, stripping down and diddling myself in the sun."

In this parched land that time forgot, moisture is a rare treasure; so Ashley works to keep her subterranean source wet and flowing.

As the juices bubble up into the lush undergrowth, she lifts a few precious drops to her mouth.

"I learn from watching the desert creatures," Ashley observes. "They never let fluids go to waste."

Are there other lessons the desert can teach?

"I spend the hot days deep in my dark, moist hole. When the sun goes down, that's when I set out on the hunt."

Two Men

The man we were helping just sat there. All this time he'd voiced plenty of desires but hadn't said a word. More and more he began to seem like somebody's dog.

I'm calling the police." I was so flooded with yearning I thought it would drown me. Her voice broke off and floated down.

"I've got the phone now. Now I'm dialing," she called down softly.

I thought I heard a car's engine somewhere not too far away. I ran back to the street.

"What is it?" Richard said as I got in.

Headlights came around the corner. A spasm ran through me so hard it shook the car. "Jesus," I said. The interior filled up with light so that for two seconds you could have read a book. The shadows of dust streaks on the windshield striped Tom's face. "It's nobody," Richard said, and the dark closed up again as whoever it was went past. "Caplan doesn't know where you are, anyway."

The jolt of fear had burned all the red out of my blood. I was like rubber. "I'll go after him, then. Let's just have it out."

"Maybe he doesn't care or—I don't know. What do I know?" Tom said. "Why are we even talking about him?"

"Maybe he forgives you," Richard said.

"Oh God, if he does, then we're comrades and so on, forever," I said. "All I'm asking is just punish me and get it over with."

The passenger wasn't defeated. He gestured all over the place, touching his forehead and his armpits and gyrating somewhat in place, like a baseball coach signalling his players. "Look," I said. "I know you can talk. Don't act like we're stupid."

He directed us through this part of town and then over near the train tracks where hardly anybody lived. Here and there were shacks with dim lights inside them, sunk to the bottom of all this darkness. But the house he had me stop in front of got no light except from the streetlamp. Nothing happened when I honked the horn. The man we were helping just sat there. All this time he'd voiced plenty of desires but hadn't said a word. More and more he began to seem like somebody's dog.

"I'll take a look," I told him, making my voice cruel.

It was a small wooden house with two posts for a clothesline out front. The grass had grown up and been crushed by the snows and then uncovered by the thaw. Without bothering to knock I went around to the window and looked in. There was one chair all by itself at an oval table. The house looked abandoned, no curtains, no rugs. All over the floor there were shiny things I thought might be spent flashbulbs or empty bullet casings. But it was dark and nothing was clear. I peered around until my eyes were tired and I thought I could make out designs all over the floor like chalk outlines of victims or markings for strange rituals.

"Why don't you go in there?" I asked the guy when I got back to the car. "Just go look. You faker, you loser."

He held up one finger. One.

"What."

One. One.

"He wants to go to one more place," Richard said.

"We already went to one more place. This place right here. And it was just bogus."

"What do you want to do?" Tom said.

"Oh, let's just take him wherever he wants to go." I didn't want to go home. My wife was different than she used to be, and we had a six-month-old baby I was afraid of, a little son.

The next place we took him to stood all by itself on the Old Highway. I'd been out this road more than once, a little farther every time, and I'd never found anything that made me happy. Some of my friends had had a farm out here, but the police had raided the place and put them all in jail.

This house didn't seem to be part of a farm. It was about two-tenths of a mile off the Old Highway, its front porch edged right up against the road. When we stopped in front of it and turned off the engine, we heard music coming from inside—jazz. It sounded sophisticated and lonely.

We all went up to the porch with the silent man. He knocked on the door. Tom, Richard, and I flanked him at a slight, a very subtle distance.

As soon as the door opened, he pushed his way inside. We followed him in and stopped, but he headed right into the next room.

We didn't get any farther inside than the kitchen. The next room past that was dim and blue-lit, and inside it, through the doorway, we saw a loft, almost a gigantic bunk bed, in which several ghost-complexioned women were lying around. One just like those came through the door from that room and stood looking at the three of us with her mascara blurred and her lipstick kissed away. She wore a skirt but not a blouse, just a white bra like someone in an undies ad in a teenage magazine. But she was older than that. Looking at her I thought of going out in the fields with my wife back when we were so in love we didn't know what it was.

DRIPPING WITH DESIRE CUM FUCK ME YOUR WAY...

Two Men

Around these strange people I felt hungry. I smelled some kind of debauchery, the whiff of a perfume that would banish everything plaguing me.

She wiped her nose, a sleepy gesture. Inside of two seconds she was closely attended by a black man slapping the palm of his hand with a pair of gloves, a very large man looking blindly down at me with the invulnerable smile of someone on dope.

The young woman said, "If you'd called ahead, we would've encouraged you not to bring him."

Her companion was delighted. "That's a beautiful way of saying it."

In the room behind her the man we'd brought stood like a bad sculpture, posing unnaturally with his shoulders wifling, as if he couldn't lug his gigantic hands any farther.

"What the hell is his problem?" Richard asked.

"It doesn't matter what his problem is, until he's fully understood it himself," the man said.

Tom laughed, in a way.

"What does he do?" Richard asked the girl.

"He's a real good football player. Or anyhow he was." Her face was tired. She couldn't have cared less.

"He's still good. He's still on the team," the black man said.

"He's not even in school."

"But he could get back on the team if he was."

"But he'll never be in school because he's fucked, man. And so are you."

He flicked one of his gloves back and forth. "I know that now, thank you, baby."

"You dropped your other glove," she said.

"Thank you, babe, I know that, too," he said.

A big muscular boy with fresh cheeks and a blond flattop came over and joined us. I felt he was the host, because he gripped the handle of a green beer mug almost the size of a wastepaper basket with a swastika and a dollar sign painted on it. This personalized touch made him seem right at home, like Hugh Hefner circulating around the Playboy cocktail parties in his pajamas.

He smiled at me and shook his head. "He can't stay. Tammy doesn't want him here."

"Okay, whoever Tammy is," I said. Around these strange people I felt hungry. I smelled some kind of debauchery,

the whiff of a perfume that would banish everything plaguing me.

"Now would be a good time to take him out of here," the big host said.

"What's his name, anyway?"

"Stan."

"Stan. Is he really deaf?"

The girl snorted.

The boy laughed and said, "That's a good one."

Richard punched my arm and glanced at the door, indicating we should go. I realized that he and Tom were afraid of these people; and then I was, too. Not that they'd do anything to us; but around them we felt almost like stupid failures.

The woman hurt me. She looked so soft and perfect, like a mannequin made of flesh, flesh all the way through.

"Let's ditch him—right now," I cried, hurrying out the door.

I was already in the driver's seat, and Tom and Richard were halfway down the walk, before Stan came out of the house. "Lose him! Lose him!" Tom yelled, getting in after Richard, but the man already had a grip on the door handle by the time I started pulling away.

I goosed it, but he wouldn't give up. He even managed to keep a slight lead and look around right at me through the front window, keeping up a psychotic eye contact and wearing a sarcastic smile, as if to say he'd be with us forever, running faster and faster, puffing out clouds of breath. After fifty yards, as we neared the stop sign at the main road, I really gunned it, hoping to wrench free, but all I did was yank him right into the stop sign. His head hit it first, and the post broke off like a green stalk and he fell, sprawling all over it. The wood must have been rotten. Lucky for him.

We left him behind, a man staggering around a crossroads where a stop sign used to stand. "I thought I knew everyone in town," Tom said, "but those people are completely new to me."

"They used to be jocks, but now they're heads," Richard said.

"Football people. I didn't know they ever got like that." Tom was looking backward, down the road.

I stopped the car, and we all looked back. A quarter mile behind us, Stan paused among the fields in the starlight, in the posture of somebody who had a pounding hangover or was trying to fit his head back onto his neck. But it wasn't just his head, it was all of him that had been cut off and thrown away. No wonder he didn't hear or speak, no wonder he didn't have anything to do

PENIS ENLARGEMENT

MAKE YOUR PENIS HARDER, THICKER, WITH ERECT MEASUREMENTS UP TO 12 INCHES OR YOUR MAXIMUM POTENTIAL!

The following photos dramatically demonstrate an actual case history before and after using our powerful Penis Pump. The man demonstrating these increases is Chris Parker. His height is 5'9", and his weight is 135 lbs. The pump can be used by any man of any age, any height or weight for a longer, thicker, harder penis.

Before using the Penis Pump, Chris' penis is thin and small, about 3 inches

In this photo, Chris inserts his small penis into the pump.

Above, Chris has grown 2 to 3 inches but has not reached his maximum potential

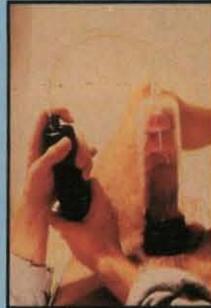

Chris shows you his penis without the pump. There is a remarkable increase, but he can still grow and reach his maximum.

Look at Chris now! See how much longer, thicker and harder his penis is!

In this photo, Chris almost fills the entire pump. He is much thicker and 10 inches long!

A close-up look at Chris' thicker, longer, harder penis.

Even without an erection after using the pump, Chris' penis is much thicker and longer.

Our Penis Developer will increase penis length, thickness and make your erection harder and stiffer. Complete step-by-step instructions on our video and magazine. Do not accept any substitute. This is the original How-To Penis Enlargement System developed over 20 years ago.

Now Possible!

PENIS ENLARGEMENT TO MAXIMUM POSSIBLE SIZE!

MEN REPORT DIMENSIONS OF 9 INCHES . . . 10 INCHES . . . EVEN AS MUCH AS 12 FULL INCHES!

Size up with the EXCELO SYSTEM

You'll see VISIBLE RESULTS the VERY FIRST TIME you use this system . . . See how FAT, how LONG, and how HARD and stiff your own penis can become!

"I couldn't believe it at first; how big it got in so little time. I had to blink my eyes . . . was that huge, throbbing pole in the tube REALLY my penis? Well . . . it was, and since that time I have used the MAGNUM PRO to make it BIGGER and BIGGER every time. Working out with the MAGNUM PRO is addictive . . ."

—Brad Penner, Milwaukee, WI

THE WORLD'S FIRST "RESULTS-ORIENTED" SYSTEM:
Tested and Proven to give you MAXIMUM GAINS in MINIMUM TIME!

Extensive research brings you a system that takes the guesswork out of enlargement. We are the only system that incorporates: a state-of-the-art pump (2 models available) PLUS a patented "erection sentry" PLUS an instructional manual on maximum enlargement techniques and ALL THIS at a price that is literally 1/10 of what you would expect to pay.

VISIBLE GAINS IN SIZE: GETTING THEM are only half of the battle; KEEPING THEM is why we're the best, most advanced system available.

The male erection is caused by blood flowing into hollow caverns in the penis. The caverns fill with blood and the penis grows in size and thickness, becoming stiffer as well. Our system not only enables any man to increase the capacity of these caverns by allowing them to hold more blood, but our revolutionary SENTRY Prolong Ring (Included with all models) allows you to keep that FAT, BULGING, ROCK-HARD ERECTION for as long as you want. When you've pumped yourself up to the size you like, slide the SENTRY onto the base of your penis and let it stay there, guarding, maintaining, keeping your POWERFUL, THROBBING ERECTION through intercourse and beyond. When you are satisfied, you simply release the SENTRY with one hand! It's that simple!

ALL THIS . . . WHAT MORE COULD YOU ASK FOR?

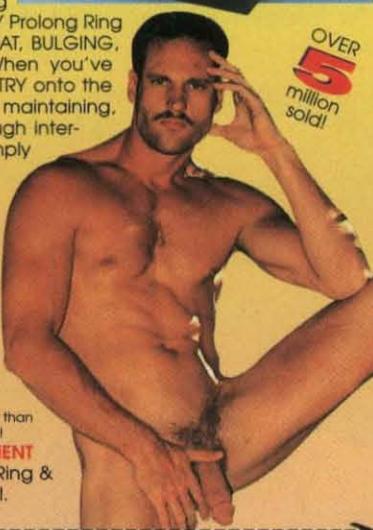

HOW ABOUT A PRICE THAT IS POSITIVELY UNBEATABLE? First of all, if you could even find a system that offers you all that the EXCELO System with Sentry Prolong Ring does, you'd easily be prepared to pay hundreds of dollars for it. That's why our system (2 models to choose from) is a truly unbelievable bargain at the price offered.

THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS: ULTRA-MODERN TECHNOLOGY AND GOOD OLD-FASHIONED VALUE – THE EXCELO SYSTEM GIVES YOU BOTH!

Made in the U.S.A., these state-of-the-art vacuum pumps are equal to or better than those prescribed by doctors that sell for up to $430. ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTES!

2 MODELS: ONE TO FIT ANY BUDGET, ANY REQUIREMENT

NOTE: All pump models include FREE Sentry Prolong Ring & "MAXIMUM GAINS" How-to-Instructional manual.

For rapid, "hands-free" operation, a joy to use. No bulb, no stroking, effortless erections! Vacuum draw is gradual for safety and control.

Two Men

The feeling that he was afraid of me was invigorating. I left the VW in the middle of the parking lot with the door open and the engine on and the headlights burning.

with words. Everything along those lines was used up.

We stared at him and felt like old maids. He, on the other hand, was the bride of Death.

We took off. "Never got him to say a word."

All the way back to town, Tom and I criticized him.

"You just don't realize. Being a cheerleader, being on the team, it doesn't guarantee anything. Anybody can take a turn for the worse," said Richard, who'd been a high school quarterback or something himself.

As soon as we hit the city limits, where the chain of streetlamps began, I was back to wondering about and fearing Caplan.

"I'd better just go after him, instead of waiting," I suggested to Tom.

"Who?"

"Who do you think?"

"Will you forget it? It's over. Seriously."

"Yeah. Okay, okay."

We drove up Burlington Street. We passed the all-night gas station at the corner of Clinton. A man was handing money to the attendant, both of them standing by his car in an eerie sulfur light—those sodium-arc lamps were new in our town then—and the pavement around them was spangled with oil stains that looked green, while his old Ford was no color at all. "You know who that was?" I told Tom and Richard. "That was Thatcher."

I made a U-turn as quickly as I could.

"So what?" Tom said.

"So this," I said, producing the .32 I'd never fired.

Richard laughed, I don't know why. Tom laid his hands on his knees and sighed.

Thatcher was back in his car by this time. I pulled up to the pumps going the other direction, and rolled down my window. "I bought one of those phony kilos you were selling for two-ten right around last New Year's. You don't know me, because what's-his-name was selling them for you," I doubt he heard me. I showed him the pistol.

Thatcher's tires gave a yip as he took off in his Falcon. I didn't think I'd catch him in the VW, but I spun it around after him. "The stuff he sold me was a burn," I said.

"Didn't you try it first?" Richard said.

"It was weird stuff."

"Well, if you tried it," he said.

"It seemed all right, and then it wasn't. It wasn't just me. Everybody else said so, too."

"He's losing you." Thatcher had hooked very suddenly between two buildings.

I couldn't find him as we exited the alley onto another street. But up ahead I saw a patch of old snow go pink in somebody's brake lights.

"He's turned that corner," I said.

When we rounded the building we found his car parked, empty, in back of an apartment house. A light went on in one of the apartments, and then went off.

"I'm two seconds behind him." The feeling that he was afraid of me was invigorating. I left the VW in the middle of the parking lot with the door open and the headlights burning.

Tom and Richard were behind me as I ran up the first flight of stairs and banged on the door with the gun. I knew I was in the right place. I banged again. A woman in a white nightgown opened it, backing away and saying, "Don't. All right. All right. All right."

"Thatcher must have told you to answer, or you never would've opened the door," I said.

"Jim? He's out of town." She had long black hair in a ponytail. Her eyeballs were positively shaking in her head.

"Get him," I said.

"He's in California."

"He's in the bedroom." I backed her up, moving toward her behind the mouth of the gun.

"I've got two kids here," she begged.

"I don't care! Get on the floor!"

She got down, and I pushed the side of her face into the rug and laid the gun against her temple.

Thatcher was going to come out or I didn't know what. "I've got her on the floor in here!" I called back toward the bedroom.

"My kids are sleeping," she said. The tears ran out of her eyes and over the bridge of her nose.

Suddenly and stupidly, Richard walked right down the hall and into the bedroom. Flagrant, self-destructive gestures—he was known for them.

"There's nobody back here but two little kids."

Tom joined him. "He climbed out the window," he called back to me.

I took two steps over to the living-room window and looked down over the parking lot. I couldn't tell for certain, but it looked like Thatcher's car was gone.

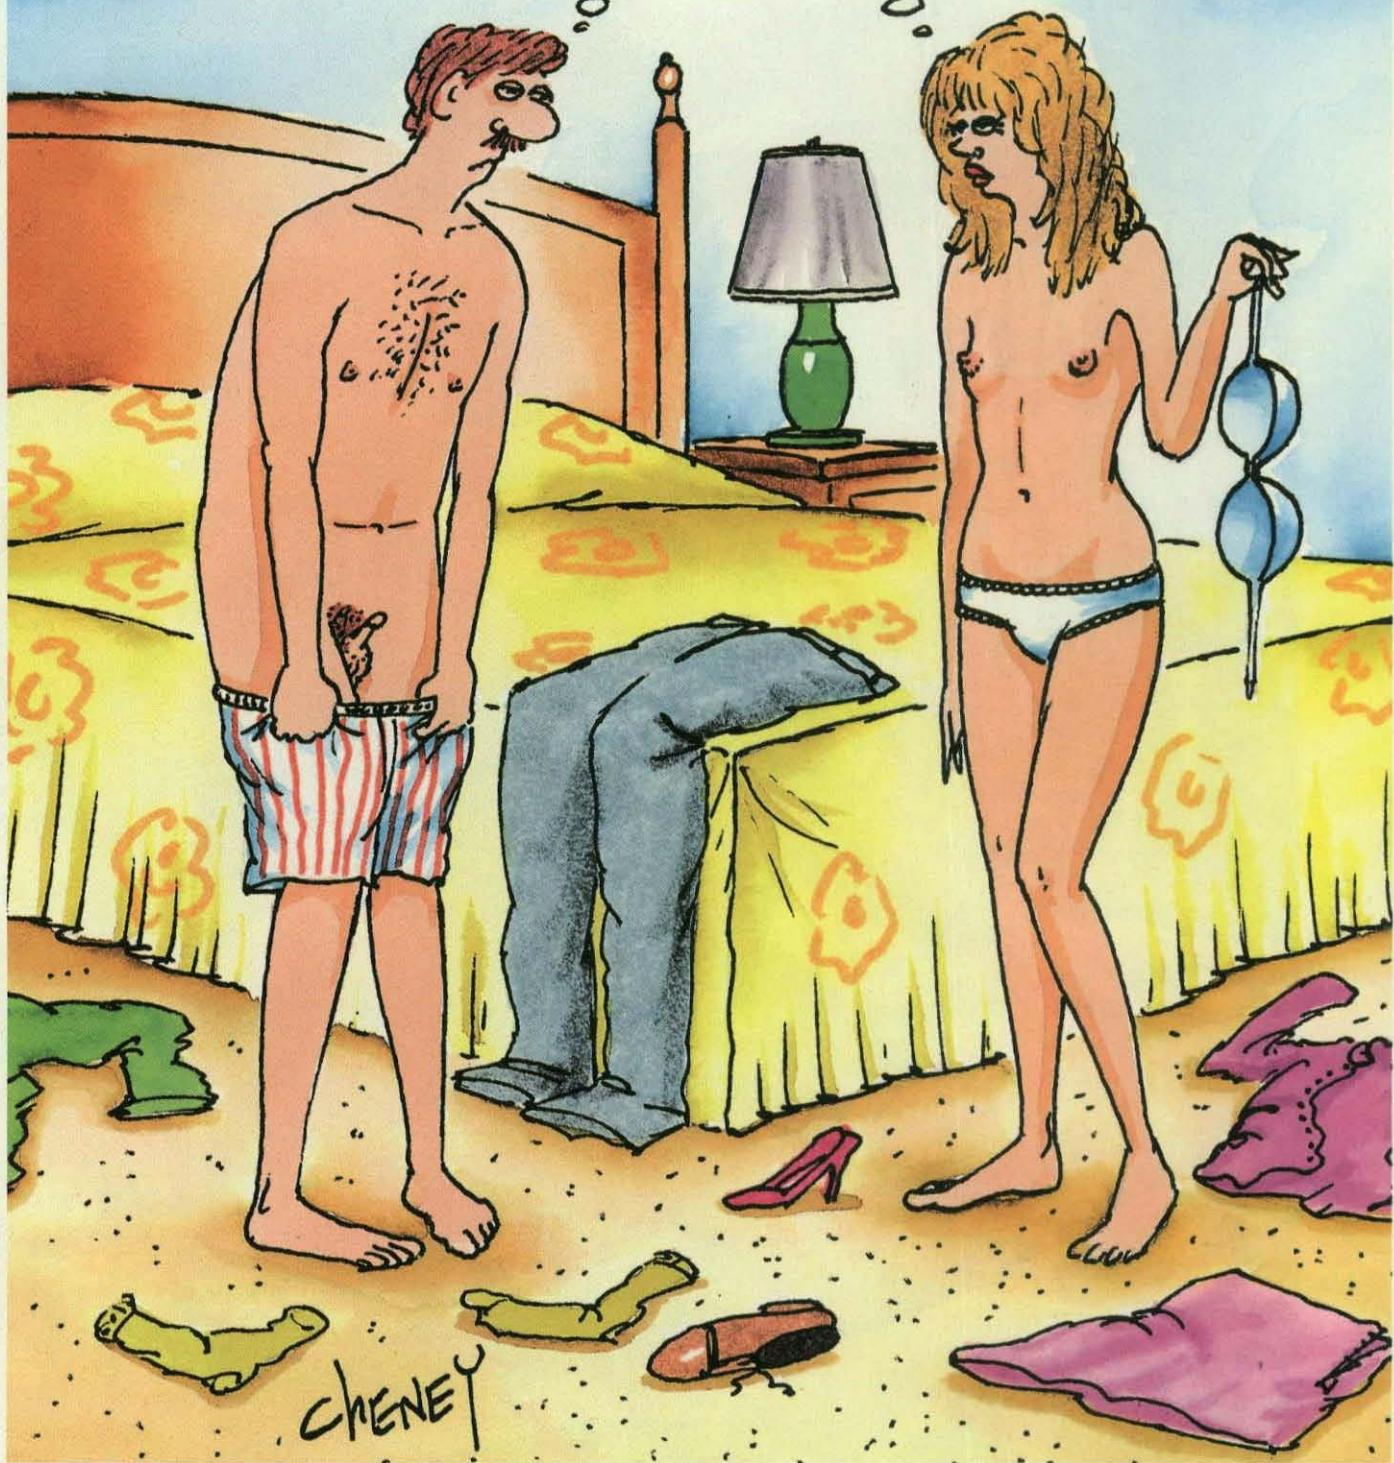

The woman hadn't moved. She just lay there on the rug.

"He's really not here," she said.

I knew he wasn't. "I don't care. You're going to be sorry," I said.

Lake Clothes Begone

PHOTOGRAPHY BY DENYS DEFRENCESCO

Jeanine often returns to the lake to reminisce. "The first time I ever went skinny-dipping was up here." She blushes slightly. "The first time I ever let a boy see my special area was here too."

Digging into the well-spring of her memory, she fondly recalls some other "firsts" that occurred on these tranquil shores.

"If the right guy were to come along, I might be interested in recreating my favorite memories."

As wet as the lake itself, Jeanine relives those hot summer nights and wonders what the future might bring.

HAVE ERECT MEASUREMENTS OF 9, 10, YES! EVEN 12 FULL INCHES!

HOW TO BUILD A GIANT PENIS!

If you've wanted to be the man that amazes women . . . the envy of other men because of their massive male organ . . . if you've ever craved a long, curving penis that hangs down beyond your balls along your thigh, there's only one sure-fire way to achieve your desires! Millions of men know how huge their penis can be thanks to regular use of vacuum development. And now, at a reasonable cost you can share this exciting experience!

NEW HYPER-PUMP TAKES YOUR PENIS TO A NEW DIMENSION!

On your first use of the new HYPER-PUMP you'll watch your penis expand in thickness until the skin is stretched tight and your veins are vividly exposed! You'll watch in astonishment as your organ stretches out further . . . and further than you've ever imagined it could. You'll see right away, without any doubt, that despite its low cost, the HYPER-PUMPS really work . . . and work fast to make your penis incredibly bigger!

COST SO MUCH LESS THAN OTHER PUMPS! WORKS BETTER TOO!

You may have seen deluxe pumps costing $50 . . . $75 . . . $100 . . . even as much as $300! The fact is all pumps work on the same principle so why pay more for expensive advertising! The HYPER-PUMPS were designed for men who want fast, first-class results for a reasonable price. They are engineered for ease of use, with the fewest possible parts (nothing to break or wear out), light in weight, but exceptionally durable. And best of all the regular model HYPER-PUMP costs only $14.50! Or you may order the SLIM-JIM or deluxe ELECTRIC models for just a little more!

HUSTLER®

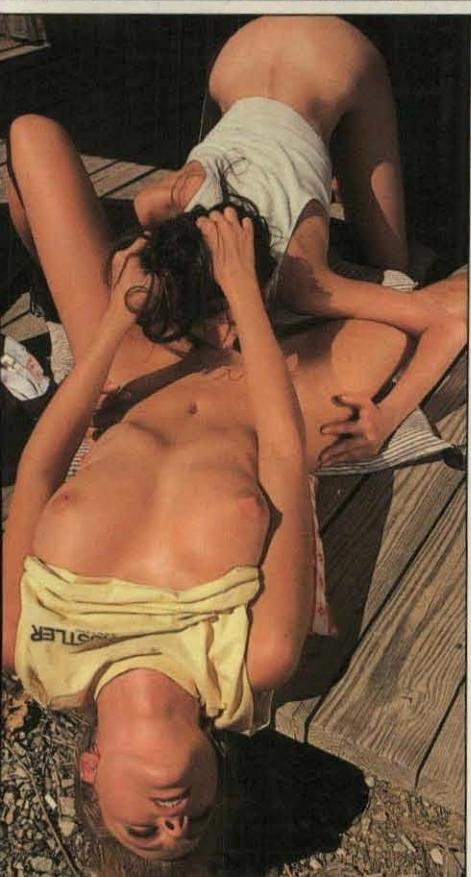

HEART-CORE PORN

This February, HUSTLER asks, How do we love pussy? Let us count the ways: One curly-haired cutie shows us how she licks her lolly and gets her little quiff all sticky; two dueling dykes fire off their guns, then set their hair-trigger snatches on automatic for a volley of rapid-fire orgasms; a raven-haired heartbreaker gorges on the rich goodness in her heart-shaped box; in the wilderness, a long-stemmed, rose-nipped adventuress explores the mysterious depths of her own Bermuda triangle; and a talk-show host gets a surprise gift when a hungry Hollywood starlet decides to showcase her real talent and hog more than the mike. In February, HUSTLER plays Cupid and hits the spot every time.

WHITE COATS, BLACK HEARTS

How many dead patients equal one Rolex watch? Evidence indicates that today's HMOs hand out prizes to the doctor who spends the least on his patients' health, encourage doctors not to inform patients of expensive treatment options and punish you if you go outside the organization for a second opinion. In Medicash: How HMOs Milk Big Bucks From Our Broken Bones, HUSTLER Articles Editor Dylan Ford diagnoses the incurable greed that infects the corporations who weigh your health in dollars and cents.

TRIPLE BYPASS

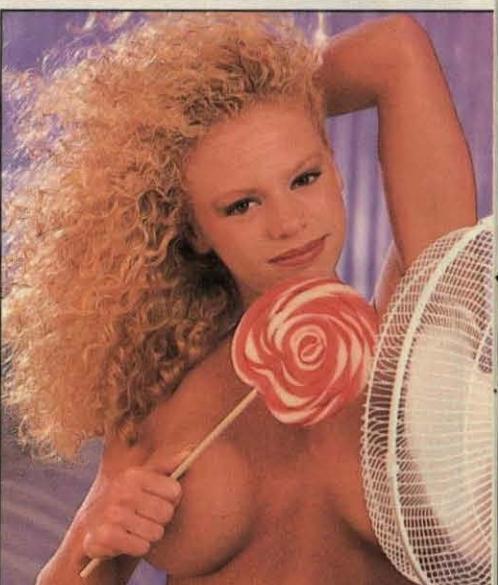

Depending on whether your balls are blue from heartache or black and blue from romance, Valentine's Day can be red-hot or the coldest day of the year. In Valentine's Days, Dennis Bartel tracks one man's three-year, four-woman, cross-country quest for a quim with a heart of gold. Will this V Day be an orgy or a massacre?

LOVE AMONG THE RUINS

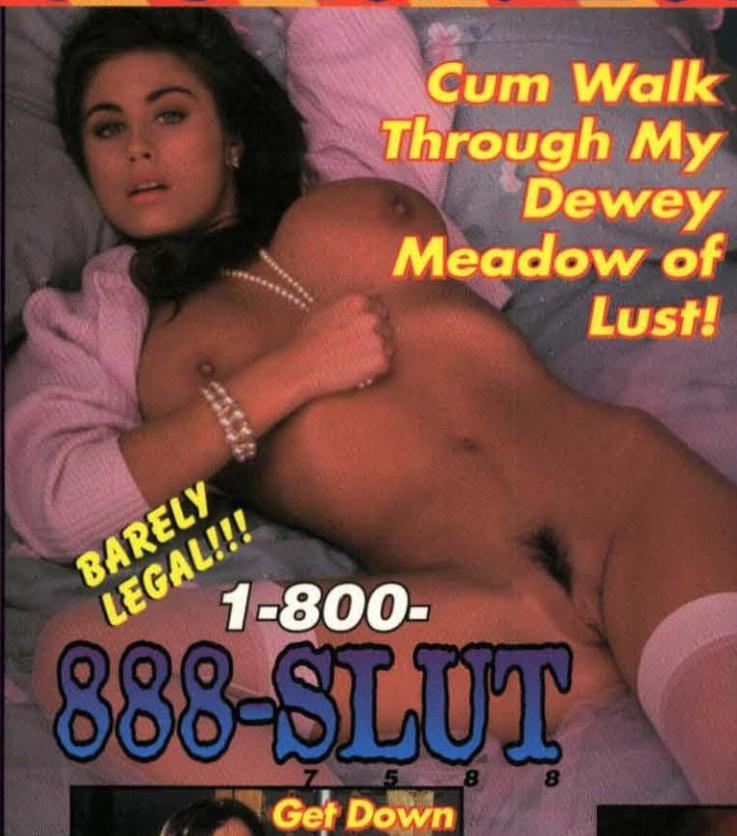

So you think Valentine's Day cost you an arm and a leg? In "Humping Stumps: Amputees Employ the Limbs of Love," Sex Play correspondent Ian Greggson watches romance blossom between the unlimbed, the "devotees" who pursue them and the "wannabes" who'd give their right arm for love. Erotic Entertainment visits the high priestess of kink; Bits & Pieces raises a stink about perfume ads; and the lovely ladies of Beaver Hunt bare their hearts and holes. February's HUSTLER is a gift box of eye candy: tasty, pink and ready to be filled with cream. Dig in. All our pieces are sweet.
